Ten of 19 on Air Force Crew Are Rescued From Atlantic

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Ten men were rescued and eight bodies recovered today from the 19-man crew of a U.S. Air Force plane down in the North Atlantic.

The Coast Guard said one member of the crew was missing.

The rescued men were taken aboard U.S. and German destroyers in the vicinity of the crash 145 miles east northeast of Nantucket.

The four engine propeller driven plane ditched in the fog-shrouded sea late Sunday night. It was on duty as an early warning radar plane.

Aboard Destroyer Barry out of Newport, R.I. Three survivors also were aboard the Barry.

Helicopters from the U.S. carrier Wasp, on maneuvers in the area along with the German navy vessels, picked up most of the crewmen and deposited them on board one of the German ships.

At least two men were picked up by small boats.

Names of the survivors and other crewmen were not immediately available.

The rescues were undertaken despite a fog which limited visibility to from 50 to 100 yards. The seas were reported as moderate, yet too rough for a sea plane to land.

German Ships
The German vessels, operating on maneuvers with the USS Wasp, are the former American destroyers USS Anthony, USS Ringgold and the USS Wadsworth.

The men were put aboard the vessel formerly known as the Anthony and now carrying the name Blotter.

The Coast Guard at Boston said there was no report on the rescued men's identity nor was any word received immediately on their conditions.

Because of poor visibility, the Coast Guard said, the rescues probably were made by small boats from the German ship, one of four which have been on maneuvers with the American aircraft carrier Wasp for the past week.

The Coast Guard said its reports indicate only 10 of the 19 crew members have been sighted.

Spokesmen at Otis Air Force Base said some reports indicated 15 men had been sighted in the water.

A search area of 80 square miles have been clocked off, the Coast Guard said.

Mariner 4 Nears Target of Mission

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — If the U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 could talk, it probably would say: "M-M-man, it's c-c-cold up here."

The temperature on the shady side of the 575-pound, windmill shaped craft is 130 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

It's so cold 132 million miles out in space—that's where Mariner 4 is today, only two days away from its July 14 picture-taking date with Mars—that one of its scientific instruments is chattering like a tropical monkey in a snowstorm. Its radio gibberish is completely unintelligible, even to computers.

The instrument, called a solar plasma probe, is one of several which scientists hope will provide more really new information about Mars than the 21 photographs Mariner 4's television camera can take.

The probe, designed to measure the hot, radioactive gases—called plasma—boiling off from the sun, went haywire 10 days after Mariner 4 was launched Nov. 28. Jet Propulsion Laboratory engineers said a resistor had failed. They rigged a computer to compensate for the failure and for a while made some sense of the data the instrument was radioing to earth.

But the farther the spacecraft went away from the sun in its curving voyage out to Mars, the colder it got. Weakened by the resistor failure, the plasma probe became more temperamental—dependent than other parts of the craft. Eventually, decoding the gibberish took more expensive computer time than was feasible.

Mariner 4 was designed to maintain an internal temperature of 55 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit despite the cold of space, absorbing just enough heat from the sun to supplement heat generated by its electrical instruments. But even this narrow range was too much for the sick plasma probe. It chattered from the cold.

The probe is ailing, but not dead yet. There is hope that when the television camera is turned on July 14 the camera may generate enough heat to revive the plasma-measuring device. Or, the shock front of plasma believed concentrated in the neighborhood of Mars may be intense enough to register on the probe's radiation counter.

This Drawing Shows the sequence of events when Mariner 4 flies past Mars Wednesday in an effort to take closeup pictures of the planet and transmit them back to earth. After a 25-minute picture-taking encounter, the spacecraft will pass behind Mars. Its radio signals passing through Mars' atmosphere will be measured in an effort to determine the density and depth of the air. (AP Wirephoto)

Knowles Ultimatum Hints at Surtax Veto

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—If the Democratic majority in the Wisconsin Assembly insists upon the adoption of a personal income surtax to pay for higher state spending, Wisconsin won't have a budget for the next two years and will be forced to continue with the lower spending authorizations of 1964 and 1965, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said today.

Knowles, at a news conference, apparently intended to convey the idea that he will veto a surtax, if such a proposal reaches him.

Evidently trying to put pressure on the Democrats who have thus far refused to support his version of a compromised revenue settlement, the Governor also described some of the probably complications that would result from a continued taxing stalemate in the legislature.

Pared Salaries
George Kaiser, commissioner of administration, said that one of the likely consequences of the failure of a new budget will be across-the-board paring of state salaries starting at the end of August.

Wayne McGown, director of finance, who also attended the Knowles news conference, said there is a likelihood that several new state welfare institutions including newly built units for the care of mentally retarded children will remain empty and unused because of the lack of money to staff them.

Knowles said he believes some progress toward a fiscal settlement has been made during the last month of bitter political struggle with the legislature's bipartisan acceptance of an $822 million spending level that virtually squares with his own recommendations of four months ago and the legislative recognition of the need for combining a budget and tax bill.

Revenue Choices
But he said the legislature must be prepared for "give and take" on revenue choices, and offer to take "complete authority and responsibility" if the ruling assembly Democrats accept his income and sales tax proposal offered last February.

He repeated that he is willing to discuss tax settlement when the lawmakers, as expected, set up a negotiation committee representing both houses this week in recognition of the deadlock between the assembly and the senate that has lasted for a month.

Knowles also remarked that as far as he has discerned, the public thus far has been largely indifferent to the tax conflict at the statehouse and has not yet put pressure upon the legislature "to do its constitutional duty."

Weekend Traffic Fatality Toll 15

8 Killed Sunday in Two Washington County Wrecks; Area Mishaps Take 2 Lives

Eight persons lost their lives Sunday in a pair of Washington County accidents while two Fox Valley area accidents each claimed a victim.

The deaths brought Wisconsin's weekend highway fatality count to 15 and raised the state's 1965 toll to 471, compared to 527 on this date a year ago. The Fox Valley area deaths were the 12th year in Outagamie County and the ninth in Winnebago County.

One of the Fox Valley victims was William Unmuth, 19, 222 E. Spring St., Appleton, who was injured fatally in an accident Tuesday on W. Prospect Avenue near St. Mary Cemetery.

Passenger in Car
Unmuth was a passenger in a car driven by Clair Stoffel, 18, 214 E. Spring St. He was one of four persons injured in the crash, and had not regained consciousness since the collision.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said he will order an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death. The youth died at about 1:30 a.m. today.

Thomas E. Doro, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doro, 327 Susan St., Combined Locks, was killed about 5 a.m. today in a one-car smashup on Quigley Road in Town of Winneconne.

Rammed Abutment
Authorities said Doro's car rammed into a concrete bridge abutment and he was thrown from the car and into the bridge abutment on the opposite side of the road. He was found slumped over the railing.

Doro was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital in

2 Accused Kidnapers Await Trial

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Main participants in one of the West's wildest kidnap chases settled down today in familiar surroundings — the Champion family at home and their abductors in jail.

A July 21 date in federal court was the next stop for Wilford Marion Gray, 30, and Carl Cleatus Bowles, 24. Cecil Poole, U.S. attorney for Northern California, said Sunday the pair will be tried "swiftly and fairly" on federal charges of kidnapping State Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife Marie and their 19-month-old daughter Katherine Marie.

Poole's decision put to rest for the time being a jurisdictional quarrel among the federal government, Sacramento County officials and Oregon authorities. All wanted to try the two gunmen on charges ranging from rape, robbery and murder in Oregon to kidnapping with bodily harm in California.

1st Division Landing

U. S. Viet Nam Troops Total Hiked to 71,000

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The first large force of U.S. combat infantrymen—3,900 men of the 1st Infantry Division—began landing in Viet Nam today.

The first 1,000 men of "Big Red One," as the division was known in World War II, landed at strategic Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, and dug in on the sand dunes.

The remainder of the famed division's 2nd Brigade will land elsewhere in Viet Nam Tuesday, a U.S. spokesman said.

The landings will bring the total of U.S. troops in Viet Nam to 71,000.

Protest Engineers
The brigade commander, Col. James Simmons, said the first mission of his troops will be to protect the U.S. Army's 35th Engineer group, which is working on harbor improvements at the huge bay.

"Later, when we get our feet on the ground, we'll get out there and find the Viet Cong," he said.

There has been little Viet Cong action in the area of the bay in recent months, but a big Communist buildup has been reported in the hills and mountains inland from it. U.S. sources said Communist strength may be as much as a regiment.

Thirty U.S. Air Force planes made repeated strikes on ordnance depots north of Hanoi today, military spokesmen said.

One mission took four F102s and eight F4s, with three other aircraft in support, over the Yen Bai depot, 77 miles northwest of Hanoi. The pilots reported destroying two buildings and damaging three others, and damaging two railroad cars in a railroad maintenance yard just south of the depot.

Fifteen planes attacked the Yen Se ordnance depot and ammunition dump about 65 miles

2 Explosions Blast Chicago Firm Vehicles

None Injured in Latest of Series Of Five Bombings

CHICAGO (AP) — Two more explosions tore through the Chicago darkness early today. The latest blasts came shortly before 3 a.m. in the West Side parking lot of an ice cream firm. Police said no one was injured.

The explosions ripped apart three ice cream trucks used by the firm. Police said the blasts blew out windows in nearby buildings and awoke many families.

A total of five mysterious explosions have occurred in the Chicago area since early Wednesday. Three of the blasts rocked the downtown section of the city.

Rigged to Bumpers
Police said that the explosives used in the latest blasts were rigged to the bumpers of the ice cream trucks.

Two men were reportedly seen running from the scene of this morning's explosions and police were searching the West Side area.

The third bomb blast occurred late Sunday night in downtown Chicago. No injuries were reported in that blast.

Police said Sunday night's explosion occurred under a car belonging to an employee of the Chicago Tribune. Three cars were damaged by the explosion and dozens of windows were blown out in the nearby Wrigley Building in the Northern downtown section near the Chicago River.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn, who lives two blocks away, said he felt the explosion in his apartment.

On the scene Quinn said, "it has all the appearances of a bomb blast."

Cabinet Level Conference

Closer Economic Ties With Japan Advocated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the fourth U.S.-Japan joint cabinet committee conference today with a call for increased economic efforts by the two countries in Southeast Asia.

He told the seven Japanese cabinet officers and their American counterparts that the two countries share a particular interest in Southeast Asia where freedom is threatened by aggressive neighbors.

In response, Japan's foreign minister, Kishi, said Japan has been taking "increased responsibility in the sphere of international economy, and in particular to our Asian neighbors."

Constant Effort

Shiina said that the progress already made in Japan-U.S. cooperative ties "will lose its firm basis unless it is accompanied by constant and strenuous efforts to bring about appropriate solutions to each and every one as such problems that may arise between our two countries."

Rusk said that wide variety of difficult problems could be expected from competition that develops between vigorous trading nations.

"As old problems are solved new ones emerge," he said.

But Rusk said that the United States and Japan must not let economic problems obscure the broader concern both countries share in the welfare of other countries of the world particularly in Asia.

Trade With China
U.S. officials said that for the first time in years, little was being said to Japan about its increasing trade with Communist China.

Japan's trade with Peking this year will rise to $430 million, up about 40 per cent over 1964, according to the Japan-Communist China Export-Import Society.

By comparison, U.S. trade with Japan is expected to exceed $4 billion this year and with trade only slightly in favor of the United States.

In welcoming the seven Japanese Cabinet ministers, their wives and top advisers Sunday night at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk praised Japan for "rapidly assuming responsibility and leadership to go with its position" as one of the great industrial powers of the world.

This appeared the opening move by the U.S. delegation to win pledges of greater cooperation from Japan in economic projects that would supplement President Johnson's proposed $1-billion Asian development program.

The Cabinet ministers will have a luncheon meeting with President Johnson at the end of their discussions, and will leave Thursday for Tokyo.

U. S. Policy in South America Getting Results

Left Extremists Currently Losing Cold War Battle

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decline in Castroism and revolutionary terrorism suggests that despite its troubles in Latin America, the United States can claim an important cold war victory in the Western Hemisphere.

At this moment, there appears to be no clear danger of a Communist takeover anywhere in Latin America. Extremist chances are waning. In one or two cases — Guatemala, for example, is considered a danger spot — the situation could change.

For the rest, the battle is not over by any means. But throughout much of Latin America there is widespread agreement on this: Students — source of the area's elite — and workers are losing their enthusiasm for Fidel Castro and other Communists.

No Reaction
U.S. military intervention in the Dominican Republic revolt

once was expected to give the Communists a new anti-Yankee handle with which to stir revolutionary ferment. Even that, however, failed to help them.

Where extremists have a chance in any given country, it is usually provided by the government itself. There remain sick nations, governments which show no interest in getting at the roots of their countries' ailments, which resist reform of any kind. These areas remain in danger of explosions.

But on issues involving "Yankee imperialism," the Communists seem to have lost their punch. Many factors contributed to the decline:

Left Weakens
—The extreme left lacks leaders, and leaders are extremely important in Latin America. None at the moment has the glitter Castro had during this revolution in the Cuban hills, nor has any the power to grip public imagination.

—The Soviet-Chinese Communist split led to a splintering of the leftist movement and to confusion in the ranks.
—Moscow-line Communists are old and tired, some even bourgeois in their ways. Soviet-sponsored parties have been around for 35 years. They began sliding downhill with the intensification of the cold war, picked up again with Castro's rise, but now are slipping fast again.

Concern
—In recent years, the impression spread in Latin America that the United States was earnestly concerned with the area's

State Jobless Total Way Down

MADISON (AP)— Wisconsin's unemployment figure dropped to 14,100 during June, the lowest total since 1959, the State Industrial Commission said today.

The June total compares with 14,500 unemployed in May and 27,500 a year ago.

Jobless benefits totaling $1.7 million were paid to individuals unemployed in June, compared with $2.2 million in May. June's benefit total also was lower than any June total since 1959, the state agency said.

troubles. Even the Dominican intervention was understood and accepted by many. The impact of the Kennedy years had been strong, and the Alliance for Progress, after a faltering start, got moving.

Today one notes rising confidence in key areas. Police and armed forces have been helped by U.S. advisers. Junior officers have been trained in U.S. programs. Efficiency has greatly improved.

There still is a rocky road ahead. Since the alliance began, eight Latin governments have been toppled. A half dozen countries have guerrilla movements to contend with. The area has many common problems: Rapid population growth, poverty and bad distribution of goods and money.

Clothespins Used to Pick Up Beads in Today's Home Game

BY CAPPY DICK

Spring-type clothespins can be the main props for a lot of challenging games such as the one described today which calls upon the players to use the clothespins to pick up small beads. The player who gathers the clothespin to pick up one or more small beads in its jaws. Figure 2 shows a game in progress. Before each player is a small dish in which he is to deposit all the beads he picks up.

Place the pile of beads on the table an equal distance from each player. At a signal to start the game, they go after the beads, picking up one at a time, or several at a time, whichever method is preferred.

As the beads are picked up in the jaws of a clothespin, they must be carried to the player's dish and deposited. This is one

Youths Find Real Lesson For Bridge

Tom Smith, an undergraduate student of government, and Emilie Tobenfeld, a graduate student of physics, brought Cornell University the Intercollegiate Bridge Championship two months ago, ending a contest that 223 colleges in the United States and Canada entered. The youthful champions learned a valuable lesson in a hand they played against Larry Cohen and Richard Katz, of the University of Wisconsin, who finished in second place.

Tobenfeld's double of four hearts was very expensive, since it told Cohen how to make his contract. Declarer assumed that West held four trumps for his double, and the rest was easy for a good player.

West led the king of spades and continued with a low spade when East signalled with the queen of spades at the first trick. South ruffed, drew one round of trumps with the ace, and then wisely abandoned the trumps.

It was important to clear the clubs while South still had a sure entry to his hand and con-rol of the trumps. When declarer led three rounds of clubs West ruffed with the seven of hearts. (It would have done West no good to discard.)

West led a diamond, hoping for a trick in that suit, but South took the ace of diamonds and led a fourth club. West could not afford to ruff low; and if he ruffed with the queen of hearts or failed to ruff, dummy would get rid of the losing diamond.

The play would go very differently if West failed to double four hearts. South would ruff the second spade and would draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and king, expecting to find three trumps in one hand and two trumps in the other opponent's hand.

The actual 4-1 trump break would ruin South. West would ruff the third club with the ten of hearts, draw South's last trump with the queen, and then take a spade trick to defeat the contract.

ANSWER: Bid two clubs. The hand is too strong for a raise to two hearts but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts (unless you have already passed). You must "invent" an in-between bid, such as two

Your Problems

Postcards Aren't Proper for Personal Notes, Ann Answers

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My mother-in-law doesn't like to write letters. She puts everything on postal cards and I do mean everything. Unfortunately, our mailman has a very big mouth. There is no such thing as a secret in this town.

A few weeks ago my mother-in-law wrote the following message on a card: "It's too bad the bank turned down your loan. I wish I could send you the money but I can't right now. If you would like me to speak to your Uncle Leonard I will. You did pay back the money you borrowed from him to buy the car, didn't you?"

I boiled for weeks over that one. My husband said I was "sensitive."

This morning I received a card from her which said: "If you aren't having any success getting pregnant, Alice, why not mother or, if I am being "adolescent" as she says.

I am almost 17 years old and have been going with a wonderful fellow who is now in the East taking summer courses at a university. He writes me twice a week. Ron (not his real name) is a poet. He has written some romantic poems just for me. I think they are the most sensitive and exquisite words I have ever read.

I learned this afternoon that my mother read several of Ron's poems to her Ladies Aid when they met at our home last week.

When I told Mother I was shocked she said, "I thought the poems were so beautiful. I wanted the ladies to hear them. Beautiful things should be shared. They belong to the world." I cannot be objective about my feelings but I am disappointed, angry and resentful. Comment please.—J.

Dear J.: Your mother has no right to invade your privacy. The poetry was written for you and not for the world, or the Ladies Aid. You realize, of course, that your mother was showing you off. Understanding her motives should make you less angry and resentful, but what she did was wrong wrong wrong.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1965)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Just keep up your nutty advice and you will be responsible for breaking up 10,000 more homes in Wayne County.

What do you mean by telling women they shouldn't have to clean the fish and fowl their husbands bring home—unless they want to?

Most women are downright lazy today, thanks to the new inventions. They are fat as cows and just as energetic. They don't even hang out the wash anymore what with machines that blow everything dry.

My mother was happy when Pa brought home anything he could trap, shoot or hook. It was a whole winter's groceries.

Women like you are ruining our civilization. I say we'd be better off if we all went back to the stream, the field and the tree.—Sign Me Sam

Dear Sam: O. K. Go back to the tree, but don't try to take the whole world with you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: To be honest I don't know if I am justified in being upset with my mother or, if I am being "adolescent" as she says.

NEWER STYLING

Sheared waves and clipped curls dominate the scene of frothy, feminine coiffures. Even postiches worn with curved cap styles to lend more softness are casually looped instead of meticulously managed. Hair shadings of all colors are used to further the effect of curly, undulating style lines. Lighter tones (either temporary or permanent) are applied through crown and dangling tendrils. The darker shades are left under the waves to make them intriguingly deeper and mysteriously shaped.

There's really no mystery at all about the magic of hair coloring. Let it go to your pretty head now. Exclusively Yours, 507 W. College Avenue, Appleton. Regent 3-4409, 123 Main Street, Little Chute. Sterling 8-2975.

Assembly Ball

North Shore Presentation Saturday

Pink and white was the summer-perfect color scheme carried out at North Shore Golf Club's 27th Assembly Ball Saturday evening. At the traditional event, 18 young daughters of North Shore members were introduced by their fathers or sponsors to club president, Henry Tollette. As father and daughter paused in the fern-banked alcove, Mr. Tollette then introduced the girls to assembled members and guests.

Gowned in 'debutante' white, each girl was presented a colonial nosegay bouquet in shades of deep pink, with carnations and sweetheart roses and long streamers to which tiny rosebuds were tied. As they were presented the honorees and their fathers formed a half circle in front of a beribboned area of the ballroom. Large topiary trees stood at either side of wrought iron trellises, to which were attached white and pink carnations. Carnations also bloomed on the topiary trees, which sparkled with tiny Italian lights. As the final presentee received the applause of guests, fathers and daughters shared the first dance, then, according to ritual, the 'rush' began, with the young women claimed by their escorts and other guests for the evening.

The First Dance after the presentation traditionally belongs to the fathers. Above are Dr. F. G. Jensen and Nancy; Joseph Ryan and Susan; Hugh R. Moore and Mary, and Howard J. Angermeyer and Kathryn. At left are, standing, F. Joseph Sensenbrenner and Mary; Miss Jaime Shipman and father, James Shipman, and, seated, Susan Gilbert and Dr. George N. Pratt Jr. Below are Miss Nancy Gilbert and her father, Nicholas T. Gilbert, seated; Miss Elisabeth Des Marais and her uncle, Harry F. Jones, and Miss Gail Pinkham and her father, Dr. Frederick Pinkham.

They dined in a decor that repeated the decoration theme of the ball itself, with tiny topiary trees of white carnations with pink bows at the base and candlelight at each table.

Each of the girls was hostess to another couple at the party, with the group enjoying a swimming party at the club after the ball.

The home of the James Shipmans' in Neenah was the setting for the post-ball party. Serving as co-hosts were Dr. and Mrs. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Dostal, Mr. and Mrs. McClure and Mr. and Mrs. McGuire.

Because heat and light destroy nutrients in milk, nutritionists recommend that milk—after being bought or delivered—be refrigerated at once.

And don't let that milk container sit around on a kitchen counter when you have taken it out of the refrigerator; use the milk you need and return the container to the refrigerator.

Fourth Strike In Two Months Hits Fox Valley

Production Stops At Allis Chalmers Appleton Works

The Fox Valley area's fourth strike in two months tied up production today at the main plant of Allis Chalmers Appleton Works.

However, both sides in the 1965 contract dispute said they were available for further bargaining talks. None are scheduled.

The strike started Sunday after members of Local 747 of the International Association of Machinists rejected the company's proposal.

Earlier last week, Local 747 struck the Appleton Machine Co. and that walkout is still in progress.

It has been estimated about 500 workers at both firms are out.

Plumber's Strike

In June, the Fox Cities area was hit by a plumbers' union strike and last month the International Association of Machinists (IAM) struck the Giddings & Lewis plant at Kaukauna. Both were settled.

Representatives of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board met with management and union bargainers last week in hopes of averting the threatened strike at Allis Chalmers Appleton Works.

While Allis Chalmers' main plant was shut down Sunday, the foundry remains in operation.

Agreement

Following extensive talks in recent weeks, Local 329 of the International Molders and Allied Workers (AFL-CIO) reached agreement with the company.

A company spokesman said today the contract agreed upon late Friday by the foundry workers was a two-year agreement and represented "substantially the same terms rejected by the machinists union."

Two-Year Contract

The spokesman said the last offer the company had on the table as of Saturday when the machinists took a strike vote called for a two-year contract, with a 3 per cent wage increase the first year and 3 per cent the second year, plus fringe benefits.

The union, he said, was seeking a wage hike amounting to 4 per cent the first year and 5 per cent the second.

"We are willing to meet with the union at any time and resume talks," the company representative said. He said the proposal made to Local 747 was in line with other contract settlements arrived at in the area.

Only office and engineering personnel were at work today at the main Allis Chalmers plant.

Local 747 was maintaining pickets at Allis Chalmers and Appleton Machine.

Picketing Continued at the Allis Chalmers Appleton Works (formerly Valley Iron) as the strike of Local 747 of the International Association of

100 Families Expected at Manawa 'Dancer' Camporee

MANAWA — Approximately 100 camping families are expected at the Bear Lake camporee grounds Friday through Sunday for the second annual National Square Dance Campers Association Camporee. Reservations are being received from Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan.

Activities will begin with a kick-off dance Friday evening. Saturdays events include youth activities, dancing for children of all ages, the annual meeting of NSDCA Inc., and square dancing. No activities are planned for Sunday.

For association purposes, a camper is defined as "one, who at regular vacation intervals, resides at a vacation site, as in a woods, forest, seashore, etc., in a tent, trailer, cabin, or other temporary shelter, but not to include temporary residence in a motel, hotel, tourist room, or other organized facilities catering principal to transient travelers and vacationers and which normally furnish bedding, sanitary facilities, controlled air (heat) and other refinements of normal day-to-day living."

Started in 1962, the organization was started by the Wolf Rivers Callers Association Inc. in 1962. By early January, 1964, it was apparent that the organization's growth depended on separation from the parent organization, so the National Square Dance Campers Association was born. It is active in 37 states, from Connecticut to Nebraska.

Purpose of the non-profit City's Lease of Ramp Space to Conway Hotel To Get 3-Month Trial

A three-month experiment which permits the Conway Motor Hotel to lease 35 parking spaces in the East Ramp from the City of Appleton starts this week.

The Appleton Council okayed the proposal at its last meeting only after several aldermen questioned whether a precedent was being set.

The Conway pays $6 per month for an average of 35 spaces in the ramp to be used by its patrons from 5 p.m. to 10 a.m. daily.

Members of the city parking commission, which recommended the plan on a trial basis, intend to make the parking space lease permanent if it proves workable between now and Sept. 30.

association is to provide, an opportunity for and to encourage those interested in both modern Western style square dancing and camping to combine these two activities for mutual enjoyment.

Each unit or family pays its own campsite fees and personal expenses. This is the only organization of its type in the world.

A board of directors has been set up to include three callers and two dancers. The present board includes chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sievers, Appleton, callers; vice chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vanderpool, Appleton, dancers; corresponding secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson, Oshkosh, callers; recording secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dorschner, Oshkosh, callers; and treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill, Green Bay, dancers.

Board of Directors

The board appointed a committee for the 1965 camporee. General chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nicklaus, Marinette; vice chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elliott, Clintonville; square and round dance chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson, Oshkosh; special and youth events, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler, Stevens Point; sound system, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brabender, Milwaukee; publicity, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Broas, Milwaukee; registration, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weber, Menomonee, Mich.; and maintenance superintendent, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crawford, Westfield.

The camporee and dancing activities are for members only. No new memberships will be accepted during the camporee week.

Decisions of the board of review are appealable to the circuit court.

There are an estimated 15,000 pieces of property on the tax roll in Appleton.

A file is maintained on each by City Assessor John Pierre.

County Patrol May Lose Blues for Uniform Brown

Outagamie County Highway Patrol may find itself dressed in brown before very long.

Brown uniforms, similar to those worn by traffic policemen in most other counties in the state, including Calumet and Brown counties, have been considered for Outagamie County since the early 1950s.

The matter came before the county courts, justice and enforcement committee Friday, which passed it on to the county board, which meets Tuesday.

Blues Are Going
There are only a few counties left whose traffic police still wear blue uniforms. Outagamie, Winnebago and Waupaca counties are among them.

Pushing for brown uniforms throughout the state is the Wisconsin County Police and Police Radio Operators Association.

However, many members of the traffic patrol object to the change unless the county furnishes the first complete uniform.

A complete uniform, including summer and winter clothing, represents an investment of about $300. The county provides $75 annually to each member of the force for maintenance of uniforms.

Gov. Knowles Asks Action To Save Water

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Startled by the gravity of the water crisis in New York and the northeastern part of the country as he observed it last week, Gov. Warren P. Knowles today called for emergency action to protect and preserve Wisconsin's rich heritage in water resources.

The governor said he will summon leading members of the state legislature and state agency heads for an immediate reappraisal of water conservation problems in Wisconsin, preparatory to calling a statewide waters conference in October which hopefully may lead to new legislation to coordinate the various elements of Wisconsin law dealing with water protection.

Great Problem
He said water conservation is the "greatest single natural resource problem now confronting the state."

He said one of his chief interests is a stronger attack upon water pollution, as he called attention to the despoiled condition of a lake near Madison on the shore of which he resides in the state-owned executive mansion.

Knowles noted that there are a number of bold new proposals on the problems of water protection pending in the legislature now and expressed the hopes that experts and private citizens can join to support a single bill combining provisions to assure that "Wisconsin water will be saved."

Avoid Emergency
The governor said he wants to avoid the emergency in New York where tourists are now not offered water in restaurants unless they ask for it, where lawn sprinkling has been absolutely prohibited for two months and where other aspects of the water problem have reached the dimensions of a crisis.

The governor visited New York last week as the head of an official Wisconsin delegation which toured the World's Fair.

Show Opens Wednesday At Seymour

Barring the possibility of inclement weather, the 1965 Outagamie County Fair should be the largest in history, combining top flight professional entertainment with the biggest array of exhibits from the county.

To make room for the huge number of displays being entered, additional space has been utilized in the commercial building, Mike Burns, Seymour, Outagamie County Fair Association president said this week.

Last year a record number of exhibits, over 6,000, were entered in the fair. If the present trend continues, 1965 should be the biggest yet, he said.

Initial Day
Wednesday, initial day of the exposition will see exhibitors entering and displaying of the exhibits. The evening's entertainment will consist of a tractor pulling contest featuring five tractor weight classes. Highlight of Wednesday's activities will be one contest with women piloting the tractors.

Rides and shows on the midway will be available at a reduced price until 5 p.m. in conjunction with Children's Day, which will be Thursday.

Throughout the five-day exposition children 12 and under will be admitted to the grounds free. Thursday, which will combine Children's Day with Appleton Night, will feature the "Golden Knights," a U. S. Army parachuting team, performing in front of the grandstand at 2 and 7 p.m.

All rides and shows on the midway will be available at reduced prices until 5 p.m.

Exhibit Judging
The morning and afternoon will be taken up with the exhibit judging. In addition to the parachuting exhibition, Appleton Night will feature a 7:30 p.m. concert by the Appleton City Band and a dignitary introduction at 7:55 p.m.

First performance of the "Carousel of Stars," starring recording artists Bobby Vinton, George Kirby, the Young Americans, the 13-piece recording orchestra of Peter Palmer and the Sue Charles Dancers, will be at 8 p.m. with a second performance at 10 p.m.

The "Carousel of Stars" to be presented again at 10 p.m.

Local Drivers Okay 3-Year Contract

Ratify Pay Increases Worked Out by Teamsters, Employers

Unionized general construction drivers in a 13-county area have ratified a three-year contract, retroactive to June 1, calling for pay and fringe benefit increases.

Bargaining representatives for the Teamsters Union and two employer groups — Fox River Valley Contractors Association and Building Trade Employers Association of Green Bay — worked out the contract agreement two weeks ago.

However, members of Local 563, Appleton; Local 75, Green Bay; and Local 126, Fond du Lac, did not officially ratify the agreement until late last week.

Expired in April

The previous three-year contract expired in April, and negotiations were underway since. More than 50 construction contractors, including several in the Fox Cities, are involved.

Top Billing at Outagamie Fair Stage Show

Vinton, Kirby, 'Young Americans'

BY ALICE FULTON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Outagamie County Fair has booked two polished professionals and a fast-rising group of student singers for "Carousel of Stars," nightly stage show.

Popular record star Bobby Vinton, impressionist George Kirby and the Young Americans, once called a "Singing Peace Corps," will share billing nights.

Vinton sold 5 million records and half a million albums in his first year of recording. He has had eight platter hits since his first recording "Roses Are Red" sold two million copies in 1962.

The young man plays the saxophone, trumpet, clarinet and piano, as well as singing and doing dialogue in his swing around the night club circuit and one-night stands.

Vinton has experience in television and films, including recent appearances on Steve Allen's television show and the Dick Clark Show, and a role in "Surf Party," a 1963 20th-Century Fox movie.

The singer has been in show business since he became the youngest professional bandleader in the business at age 15. Since then he has led the orchestra on the "Saturday Prom" NBC-TV show.

One of his record hits, "I Love You the Way You Are," is his own composition and he also wrote the Buddy Greco hit, "Mr. Lonely." Other hits racked up by the star are "Blue Velvet," "Blue on Blue," "Over the Mountain," "Trouble Is My Middle Name," "Let's Kiss and Make Up," and "Rain, Rain Go Away."

George Kirby is a low pressure comedian who takes advantage of an unusual voice range and rubber face. He can impersonate 250 voices of show business stars and the characteristics of many celebrities.

The comedian picked up much of his material while working with his subjects — entertainers like Harry Belafonte, Sammy Davis, Bobby Darin, Duke Ellington, the late Nat King Cole and Sarah Vaughn. He has shared engagements and tours with all of them.

Ed Sullivan Appearance

Kirby's success earned him a series of appearances on the Ed Sullivan television show. The Chicago-born comedian spends much of his spare time watching old movies and television shows to study old stars and today's political figures.

Lacking the background of Vinton and Kirby, the Young Americans capitalize on their youth and student status. The mission of the group of 36 high school and college students from southern California is to promote understanding of young people through their music and youth.

The non-profit group was organized two years ago by Milton C. Anderson, an experienced teaching music in the Los Angeles school system. Anderson was music supervisor for TV shows such as Studio One, Playhouse 90, Twilight Zone and Rawhide before he left to work with choral music and young people.

Folk Songs

The students sing a program ranging from folk songs to popular Broadway tunes. They appeared with Meredith Wilson on his Four Star theater specials for CBS this year. The money they earn from commercial appearances is saved toward a world-travel fund.

"The Carousel of Stars," will perform twice nightly at 8 and 10, Thursday through Sunday. Friday night is Family night when adult rates will be reduced and children under 12 will be admitted free.

Richard Groh of Taycheedah won the gold ribbon and Collector's Gallery award for sculpture in the 8th annual Winnebagoland Art Fair co-sponsored by the Fox Valley Artists Association and the Oshkosh Museum Auxiliary Sunday on the museum grounds. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Catholics, Lutherans Hold Consultation

Baltimore Meeting Milestone in History Of Two Churches

Lutheran and Roman Catholic churchmen met for two days in Baltimore last week in the first official theological consultations ever undertaken by the two communities in America.

At the meeting, 17 scholars and church officials examined Lutheran and Catholic interpretations of the "Status of the Nicene Creed as Dogma of the Church."

The creed, formulated by 318 bishops at the Ecumenical Council of Nicea in 325 A.D., stresses the Holy Trinity and the divinity of Jesus Christ. A common confession of faith, it is used in both the Lutheran and Catholic sacraments of the Lord's Supper.

First of Series
This session was the first in a series of private talks between the two groups described as in-depth discussions on a wide range of theological questions.

The second meeting, set for Feb. 18 to 20, 1966, will probably be held in Chicago or New York.

The meetings are being sponsored by the National Lutheran Council, acting as the U. S. Committee for the Lutheran World Federation, and the U. S. Catholic Bishops Commission for Ecumenical Affairs.

June Building Runs Behind Last Year's Record

New construction in Appleton during June ran far behind 1964 with permits issued for $617,447.

Director of Inspections Charles Magnette reported that residential building is the pace-setter locally.

Twenty-four new homes were started last month with a value of $375,000. Our Savior's Evangelical Lutheran Church also took out a permit for a $70,000 construction project.

Last Year
In June of last year new building started here totaled $3.4 million.

Magnette, contractors and union representatives forecast last month Appleton would have a surge in major construction this summer.

Last year was a record one for the city with $15 million in new construction projects started. Some still are in the completion stage.

Army Will Exhibit at Outagamie County Fair
Outagamie County fair-goers should make a point to visit the Army exhibit, "Blueprints for the Future," stated Sgt. 1-C Walter M. Helgesen, local Army recruiter. He pointed out that the exhibit is interesting and informative for people of all ages, containing push button controls for spectators, and is accompanied by experts in the field from Washington, D. C.

The Army championship parachute team, the Golden Knights, will demonstrate free-fall parachuting Thursday and Friday at the fairgrounds at Seymour.

Non-Airborn Autogyro Uses Port Runways

What do you do about a non-airborn autogyro being driven on runways at the old Outagamie Airport — classify it in the go-cart category and ban it from the field?

Appleton police were faced with that question Friday night after investigating a report that an unconventional vehicle was using the port runways.

Authorities found the autogyro, a strange looking machine resembling a helicopter, operated by Heribert Meyer, 1230 E. Pershing St. Meyer told police he had secured permission from airport manager Max Sagunsky to operate the machine as long as it didn't get airborne.

Sagunsky confirmed Meyer's story, telling police Meyer needed daily permission to use the airport for his autogyro, "as long as it is tied or moored to the ground while in operation so that it could not be airborne."

No charges were filed against Meyer.

Kenny LeRoy, 38, Is Victim; Police Release Other Man

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 38-year-old Shawano County man died of a skull fracture Saturday night less than a day after a tavern fight, police said.

Police said a 25-year-old man was arrested in connection with the fight but was later released when the district attorney's office said there was insufficient evidence for a charge.

Detective Sgt. James Beck said officers had asked the district attorney's office to charge the man with aggravated battery. At the time, the victim, Kenney LeRoy of rural Gresham, was unconscious in Milwaukee County General Hospital. Police said that, after the fight, he had staggered outside and was found in a nearby parking lot.

Conflicting Stories
Beck said police would take no further action in the case until they could consult the district attorney's office.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ben Weiner said he ordered the man released because it was unclear who struck the first blow and because two witnesses gave conflicting stories. He added that he had ordered police to continue their investigation.

Mead Corp. Plans Paperboard Plant At Macon Site

The Mead Corp. will open a new plant at Macon, Ga., for manufacture of kraft paperboard products. Gilbert Paper Co., Menasha, is division of the Mead Corp.

The new product was primarily designed for use in the petroleum and citrus fruit industries as a paperboard container for motor oil and citrus fruit juices. Many additional applications for the product have been indicated as a result of research efforts.

W. W. Wommack, Mead vice president, said construction will begin immediately on the initial structures which will contain approximately 20,000 square feet. Initial employment opportunities will be provided for about 20 people.

Little Chute Youths Held for Questioning In Breakin', Theft

LITTLE CHUTE—Two youths age 13 and 14 are being held in Outagamie County jail after being taken into custody on a charge of breaking into the home of George Vander Velden, 618 E. Park Ave., Friday and stealing three bottles of liquor, and an undetermined amount of cash.

The youths' connection with the break-in was discovered by Little Chute police Saturday night when the parents of one of the boys informed police that their son had come home intoxicated. The parents wanted to know where the boys could have bought the liquor.

When questioned by police, the boys admitted breaking into the Vander Velden home. They are being held for further questioning.

Vacation Period Time to Prepare For Retirement

This is the traditional time for vacations. Each year during the summer months thousands of workers take a few weeks off to visit relatives and friends, travel or just relax. Many of these people are either nearing the age of retirement or they are actually retiring now.

Frank M. Donnack, district manager of the Appleton Social Security office, reminds these people who have reached or are nearing retirement age that the vacation period is a good time to make preparations for retirement.

Donnack explained that a person may file a claim for social security benefits as early as three months before the month in which he or she wishes to claim a Social Security check. This allows the administration time to process the application and pay the first check promptly when the person stops working.

Get Information
The vacation period is also a good time to get information about social security to prepare for retirement in the future. He points out that information which will help a person plan his retirement income can be obtained from any social security office. These offices can provide information and literature to show what can be expected in the way of payments from social security. Information is also available to explain the effect of other types of income on social security payments.

Donnack urges that persons who are considering retirement contact the social security office nearest them. The Appleton Social Security office is located at 401 S. Elm St., in the Outagamie County courthouse annex.

Dean Chance Hurls Angels to 2-0 Win; Twins Edge Yanks

6-5 Victory Boosts Minnesota to 5-Game Lead Over Cleveland

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dean Chance has lost a toothache, and American League batters have gained the pain.

Chance, whose pitching has been a surprising sore spot on the Los Angeles staff, hurled his first complete game in two months Sunday as the Angels defeated Cleveland 2-0 and extended their shutout string over the Indians to 30 innings.

The victory was the third straight for Chance, who brought his pre-All-Star Game record to 6-4. At the All-Star break last year, the 24-year-old right-hander had a 5-5 mark, but his earned run average was 2.19 compared with his present 3.96.

Chance started last year's All-Star Game, shut out the National League for three innings, won nine straight after the contest and received the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the majors with a 20-9 record.

The most work he'll get out of Tuesday's game is getting up and sitting down between innings in front of a television set.

Infected Tooth Pulled
Chance's poor start this season had everyone, including him, puzzled. Finally, he had an infected wisdom tooth pulled.

"I'd have to say that was it," he commented recently. "I was bearing down, but I couldn't seem to get my best stuff going. I guess I started pressing, and then I got wild. When I finally had the tooth pulled, it took me a long time to get my strength back. I think I'm just about back to normal."

Dr. Robert Woods, Angels' team physician, said the infected tooth affected Chance's kidneys and caused him to lose seven pounds.

"He had to be weaker," said Dr. Woods, adding that an examination last Friday showed that Chance appears to be himself again.

Opposing batters felt the pain from the top of the league to the bottom.

At the top of the AL, incidentally, are the Minnesota Twins, whose 6-5 victory over New York Sunday pushed them five games ahead of the second-place Indians, biggest bulge in the league this season. In the only other game Detroit trimmed Kansas City 4-2. Rain

Brown's Trial Opens Today At Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Jim Brown, the Cleveland Browns' star fullback, goes on trial today in Municipal Court on an assault and battery charge brought by 18-year-old Brenda Ayres.

Miss Ayres filed the charges three weeks ago, accusing the 29-year-old Brown of slapping her while she was with him in an East Side hotel room. She said she had met Brown, who is married and the father of three, six weeks earlier.

Miss Ayres is the oldest daughter of Mrs. Barbara Ayres, an East Side domestic worker who is separated from her husband.

Brown pleaded innocent to the charges but has declined to comment on the case.

Conviction carries a maximum penalty of six months in jail and a $200 fine.

The trial originally was set for Sept. 20, but was moved up by Judge Anthony A. Rutkowski, who said he thought the case "should be disposed of before the football season starts."

The Browns launched a National Football League early training session for quarterbacks and rookies Sunday at Hiram, but veteran players don't have to report until July 14.

Ridgeway pro Bob Below, who authored a glistening 3-under par 67, teamed with June Wamsley, Ede Jorgenson and Helen Pfister to win the Northeastern Women's Golf Association Pro-Ladies Best-Ball Tournament at the Butte des Morts Golf Club Sunday.

The Ridgeway foursome finished with a best-ball tally of 61, equalled by Sheboygan Pine Hills' team of pro Ken Suesens and Mary Ann Testwuide, Patty Tompsett and Mary Beth Anzich.

The rural Neenah representatives were awarded first place on the basis of a lower accumulative handicap among the three women. Ridgeway's handicap was 54, while the Sheboygan group were aided by a 58-shot spot.

Below won low-par honors for the day by two strokes over his nearest competitors. Runners-up were Don Erdmann, of Kaukauna's Fox Valley, Mike Cavanaugh, of West Bend, and Louis Glaser, of Fond du Lac's South Hills. All carded 1-under par 69s.

Men's par at BDM is 35-35, while the women shoot for 36-38.

Highlighted By Eagle

Below's sparkling 67 was highlighted by an eagle three on the sixth hole. The crew-cut Ridgeway product powered a 3-iron to the green, after a booming tee-shot, and dropped a 25-foot putt. Below's front nine card showed 35 on the last five holes for an outgoing 32. He matched the par 35 card on the incoming nine.

Third place in the event went to Green Bay Oneida's No. 1 team of pro Bill Furnari and club members Ann Mortell, Peg Surplice and Betty Brooker.

Mary Beth Nienhaus, BDM's No. 1 threat in the championship flight, led the women with a 2-over par 76 on nines of 39-37. Defending champion Kathleen Curran, of Antigo's Bass Lake Club, stroked an 82 on a pair of 41s, including an eagle 3 on the sixth hole. Miss Curran holed an approach shot from the rough for the eagle.

Match play in the 13 flights began today and continues thru Wednesday.

Koufax Picks Up 15th Victory, Dodgers Split Twin Bill With Pirates

Cubs Whitewash Cardinals, 6-0, In Both Games

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

For someone who was supposed to be a once-a-week wonder, arthritic Sandy Koufax has turned out to be a pretty regular guy after all.

The Los Angeles Dodger dandy became the major leagues' first 15-game winner Sunday with a 4-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates that kept the Dodgers hot on the trail of the National League-leading Cincinnati Reds as baseball reached the three-day All-Star Game break.

When Koufax came up with arthritis in his left elbow this spring the celebrated southpaw was virtually written off as a regular pitcher. The feeling was that if Sandy could work once a week, Manager Walt Alston and the Dodgers would be fortunate.

4-Day Rotation

Well, the season is 13 weeks old and Koufax, working on a regular four-day rotation, hasn't missed a turn yet. Sunday's start was his 21st of the season and he responded with his 14th complete game. His 169 innings pitched are the most any hurler has worked and his 15-3 record and 195 strikeouts are tops in those departments as well.

Pretty good for an invalid. After Koufax' first game victory, Pittsburgh went 10 innings to gain a split of the doubleheader on Manny Mota's home run, 4-3. Hank Aaron's two-run homer gave Milwaukee a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati and trimmed the Reds' lead over the Dodgers to a mere three percentage points. Chicago swept a doubleheader from St. Louis, winning both games 6-0.

Boston at Washington and Chicago at Baltimore in the American League and San Francisco at Philadelphia and Houston's doubleheader at New York in the National League all were postponed by rain.

Struck Out 10

After giving up first inning homers to Bob Bailey and Donn Clendenon and a single to Bill Mazeroski, Koufax permitted only two more singles the rest of the way. Sandy struck out 10 and won his ninth straight game, longest winning streak in the majors this year.

Koufax also had two singles and drove in the Dodgers' first run in the third inning after catcher Jeff Torborg had tripped.

The Pirates tied the nightcap in the seventh inning on Andre Rodgers' pinch single before Mota's two-out shot in the 10th beat Bob Miller.

Krug, Banks Homer

Chris Krug and Ernie Banks slugged three-run homers and Larry Jackson and Cal Koonce provided shutout pitching as the Cubs handed the Cardinals the

Aaron's Homer Gives Braves 2-1 Triumph

Milwaukee Held To Three Hits; Johnson Winner

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Braves got only three hits Sunday but one of them was a home run by Hank Aaron which scored Frank Bolling in front of him and gave the Braves a 2 to 1 decision over the Cincinnati Reds.

The victory snapped the Braves' two-game losing streak but it wasn't enough to knock the Reds out of the National League lead. Cincinnati remained in first place, three percentage points in front of the Los Angeles Dodgers who split a doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati starter, and loser, Sammy Ellis gave up a hit to Felipe Alou, the first batter to face him and then retired the next 18 men in order until Bolling singled sharply into right to open the seventh. Then Aaron hit his 17th homer of the year, a towering blow over the centerfield wall to give the Braves two runs.

Get Run Back

The Reds got one of the runs back against Milwaukee starter and winner Ken Johnson in the eighth. Up until that time Johnson had permitted only three hits. In the eighth, however, when Art Shanks singled and Tony Ruiz ran for him, Tom Harper sent a long fly to Aaron on which Ruiz gained third and scored easily on Vada Pinson's single.

Norm Nelson Wins 200-Miler At Milwaukee

Nips Jim Hurtubise By Two Seconds In 1965 Plymouth

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Norm Nelson of Racine forged to the front in the final lap and picked up $5,053 in winning Sunday's 200-mile late model stock car race at State Fair Park in a 1965 Plymouth before a crowd of 27,944.

Nelson won by two seconds over teammate Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N.Y., also piloting a '65 Plymouth, on the one-mile asphalt track. Hurtubise, who had led most of the way collected $3,522.

Nelson averaged 90.25 miles per hour as the caution flag was raised eight times for a total of 35 miles because of minor accidents. No one was injured. The starting field of 37 was the largest in a United States Auto Club race this season.

The total purse was $26,250 plus accessories money.

A. J. Poyt of Houston, Tex., was third in a 1965 Ford and was followed across the finish line by three '65 Dodges. They were driven by Bobby Isaacs, Catawba, N.C.; Davis Pearson, Spartanburg, S.C.; and Herb Shannon, Peoria, Ill., respectively.

Roger Regeth of Milwaukee was tenth in a 1964 Ford.

Announcement of the winner drew mixed cheers and boos from the crowd. Nelson, leading the USAC circuit, said, "I've never had this many boos for winning but I'm very glad that Plymouth finished one-two."

Hurtubise, who suffered severe burns in a big car race on the same track last year, said, "I had tire trouble at first and then my brakes went out on the 190th lap."

Parnell Jones of Torrance, Calif., seeking his eighth straight victory in late model stock car racing at State Fair Park, did not finish. His Mercury was disabled in a collision in the 20th lap.

Freedom Grabs Third Place

LC-K Wins Semi-Pro Title 11-2

By GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA—Little Chute-Kimberly captured its third straight Fox River Valley Semi-Pro District Tournament championship by topping the Menasha Macs, 11-2, Sunday afternoon.

Freedom annexed third place honors by trouncing Clintonville, 16-1.

Little Chute-Kimberly, the Macs and Freedom all will represent the district in the state semi-pro meet here July 29-Aug. 1.

Individual honors went to Bill Knoedler, LC-K southpaw, named the outstanding pitcher, and Dick Markusen, Menasha outfielder, the leading hitter with a .600 mark on six hits in 10 tries.

All Tourney Team

Hank Peerenboom, LC-K. Vern Macs' runs, the first with a Romanesco, Jim Vande Wattering and Ken Huebner, Freedom. Bill Gammy, Menasha, Bill Danforth, Garrows', and Don Hirschele, Clintonville, infielders; and Dick Zeratsky, Freedom and Lee Levknecht and Tom Peerenboom, Little Chute-Kimberly, outfielders.

The champions wrapped up their third crown by posting a pair of five-run innings—the second and seventh.

Menasha's defense fell apart in the second, committing three errors, which along with three hits and a wild pitch produced five runs. One error brought in two markers.

Knoedler Homers

Successive doubles by Levknecht and Bob Arko accounted for another run in the sixth. Knoedler hit his second homer of the tourney with a man on base to highlight the big seventh. It also included three singles. Hank Peerenboom's and Russ Rusch, Menasha, double and a passed ball.

Markusen drove in both of the Mac's runs, the first with a Romanesco, Jim Vande Wattering and Ken Huebner, Freedom. He had four safeties in all.

Knoedler was touched for nine hits but struck out 16 and walked but three. The defense was charged with only one inconsequential error.

Pete Kaul started for the Macs but came up with a sore arm in the third and was relieved by Mike Vindhurst. Dave Fischer took over the seventh. The trio was racked for 13 hits.

7 Runs in First

The Freedom-Clintonville affair was decided in the bottom of the first when the Valley League squad struck for seven runs. It was blanked in the second and third but tallied trios in the next three. The game was called in the seventh.

The big first included Jim Vande Wattering's third homer of the meet with one mate aboard and pitcher Larry Huebner. Turn to Page 7, Col. 6

Mays Questionable Starter for All-Star Game

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants, an All-Star fixture for 12 years, remained a questionable starter today as the National League looked forward to completing Operation Overhaul in Tuesday's All-Star Game.

A big bruise on his right hip restricting his mobility, the flashy $105,000 center fielder received a day of rest Sunday when the Giants were rained out at Philadelphia.

Mays said he felt pretty good but was still sore following a collision at home plate Saturday night with Phillies' catcher Pat Corrales.

The 34-year-old slugger, leading the majors with 23 homers, also said he hoped he would be able to play, but it was no certainty that he would be in the starting line-up.

Without Starter
If he isn't, each team will be without one selected starter.

The American League learned Sunday that first baseman Bill Skowron of the Chicago White Sox will be unable to play because of an injury to his side. Skowron was hurt in a recent collision with Cleveland's Chuck Hinton and hasn't played since last Thursday.

Skowron was replaced numerically by New York's Joe Pepitone, but Manager Al Lopez named Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota to start at first since the Twins' slugger originally was his second choice.

This year's game will be the first played in the Twin Cities with a capacity crowd of 47,000 expected when the contest gets under way at 1 p. m. EST.

The game will be telecast and broadcast by NBC.

The National League, which has trailed the American since the series inaugural in 1933, pulled even 17-17 by winning last year's struggle 7-4 when Mays triggered a three-run ninth-inning rally capped by Johnny Callison's three-run homer.

Until Mays was injured, the National League had been favored to continue its recent domination behind a talented crew of fireballing pitchers and home run hitters.

Ended in Tie
In the last eight games the NL has come out in front six times with the American League winning once. The 1962 game ended in a tie.

The starting pitchers weren't to be named until today, but Milt Pappas of Baltimore was expected to go for the American while Cincinnati's Jim Maloney appeared to be the Nation's choice.

They are favored to be named the starters because they are right-handers, and they will have had three days rest. Both worked Friday night,

Connolly, Wilkerson Pace Foxes' Victory

striking out the last two Waterloo batters. The Hawks managed just two hits off Derrel, both in the spine-tingling ninth.

Connolly, who finished with two runs-batted-in on two hits and pushed in the decisive run, shared the offensive honors with John Sepich, who cracked out three doubles en route to three RBIs.

The Foxes actually blew a 6-0 lead, stacked up in the first two frames. Ray Wolkowski led-off the first with a walk and advanced on a sacrifice Elmore Hill's double to the left field corner pushed Wolkowski across with the first of four runs in the opening frame.

Connolly Again

Walks to Hickerson and Rouse opened the 2-run second for the Foxes. Connolly lined a one-baser to center, scoring "Hick" and Sepich doubled in Rouse, when rightfielder Neil Hutcheson lost the fly ball in the lights. Waterloo reached Emmanuel (BooJack) Fitzgerald, the Foxes' starter, for a pair of runs in the fifth on Bill Conigliaro's single, Brian Edgerly's double, a walk, wild pitch and ground out.

The Hawks added another run off reliever Jim Jankow, the second of four Foxes' hurlers, in the sixth. The Foxes, however, scored once in the bottom of the inning for a 7-3 lead. Connolly survived on an error and advanced to third on Sepich's third double. Jerry Harmon's single pushed the run across. Waterloo sent Jankow and Paul Gillford to the showers in a 4-run uprising in the seventh, knotting the count at 7-7, before Wilkerson made the scene with runners on first and third. Lanky Derrel retired the side on an easy ground out.

Fanned Three In Eighth
Wilkerson then fanned the side in the eighth inning, before running amuck (temporarily) in the ninth. Ed McGuinness singled and Hutcheson doubled. Wilkerson elected to walk Conigliaro to load the bases with one out. The move worked as he fanned pitcher Bob McGuire and, with a 3-2 count, sent Edgerly down swinging.

After Wilkerson retired the side in order in the top of the tenth, his mates went to work. Hickerson walked and reached second on a wild pitch. Pat Lutz also drew a free pass after Hill fanned. Connolly followed with the game-winning single.

Pappas bringing his record to 9-3 and Maloney his to 10-4.

With both teams liberally stocked with right-handed power hitters, Managers Gene Mauch and Lopez likely will open with right-handed hurlers. Bob Veale of Pittsburgh also will have had three days rest, but he is a southpaw.

Behind Maloney and Veale in order of work for the NL are Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, Houston's Dick Farrell and Juan Marichal of San Francisco, who pitched Saturday, and Sunday workers Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, Sam Ellis of the Reds and Bob Gibson of St. Louis.

The other two AL pitchers who worked Friday — Pete Richter of Washington and John O'Donoghue of Kansas City — are left-handers as is Cleveland's Sam McDowell.

Remainder of Corps
The remainder of the AL corps is made up of Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees, Minnesota's Jim Grant and two relief specialists, Bob Lee of Los Angeles and Chicago's Eddie Fisher.

The remainder of the starting NL line-up has Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh and Milwaukee's Hank Aaron in the outfield. Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs at first, Cincinnati's Pete Rose at second, Maury Wills of the Dodgers at short, Philadelphia's Richie Allen at third and Joe Torre of Milwaukee catching.

Outfielders Rocky Colavito of Cleveland and Detroit's Willie Horton are the chief American League bombers.

Vic Davallillo of the Indians is the center fielder with Boston's Felix Mantilla at second, Dick McAuliffe of Detroit at short, Baltimore's Brooks Robinson at third and Earl Battey of Minnesota behind the plate.

All starters must play at least the first three innings. No pitcher may work more than three innings unless the game goes into extra innings.

Kathy Whitworth Captures Midwest Open Golf Crown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The pendulum has swung back toward Kathy Whitworth in what has become a duel with Carol Mann for the throne of women's goldmin now that queen Mickey Wright is abdicating.

Kathy triumphed by a single stroke Sunday over fellow Texan Sandra Haynie, 219 to 220, in the Ladies PGA Midwest Open for her fourth victory of the 1965 LPGA tour.

Miss Mann came here on the heels of successive victories in the Lady Carling Eastern Open and the USA Women's National Open but tied for 11th place in the Midwest tourney, nine strokes off the lead. A chest cold may have hampered her.

Cubs' Krug Gets Revenge From Cards

CHICAGO (AP) — Everett (Chris) Krug gained his revenge from the St. Louis Cardinals in major league fashion Sunday.

Krug, a 25-year-old rookie catcher with the Chicago Cubs who, before helping deal the world champion Cardinals a pair of 6-0 shutouts, could point to little more of distinction than having been born on Christmas Day.

His career started in 1958 when he signed with the Cardinals. After seven unsuccessful years in the minors, the Cardinals dropped him from double A ball to Class A last year.

"That was it for me," said Krug Sunday, as he basked in the glory of catching a pair of shutouts and driving in five runs. His four hits included a three-run homer and a bases-loaded double.

"The Dallas-Fort Worth club drafted me last year, but I wrote the Cubs and told them I wouldn't report unless I got one chance in the majors. They've given me the chance, and now I'm going to try and make the most of it."

Phils' Corrales To Play Thursday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pat Corrales, Philadelphia Phillies catcher who suffered a slight concussion in a collision at home plate with Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants Saturday night, was released from St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday.

The Phillies said Corrales would be able to play Thursday when the Phils meet Cincinnati. Mays suffered a bruised hip in the collision during the first inning of the game but was not hospitalized.

House to Consider Poverty Fund Hike

Major Measures on Housing, Coinage, Cigarette Labeling Await Congress This Week

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The "war on poverty" erupts in Congress this week as the House considers a bill that would double the money in the antipoverty program. The measure is only one of several big ones up for action as Congress keeps up a booming pace that saw the House and Senate passing major voting rights and Social Security bills last week.

Bills dealing with housing, the U.S. coinage system, cigarette labeling and funds for running Congress, federal agencies and the Department of Agriculture are on the week's program.

'War' Aft
When the administration tagged its efforts to end poverty in the United States a war, it didn't realize how apt the word was. Fierce political battles are raging in many big cities over how the antipoverity funds are to be used.

The fighting will spread to the House Wednesday when the administration's bill to add $1.9 billion for the many different programs is taken up. No votes are likely before Thursday.

Republican opponents of the bill have been readying their ammunition for weeks, and a hot debate is in prospect. The administration is believed to have the votes to pass the bill.

Remove Silver
Before acting on that measure, however, the House will vote Tuesday on a bill that would remove silver from all U.S. coins and authorize new coins with copper centers and copper-nickel alloy surfaces.

This goes beyond the administration's recommendations and a Senate-passed bill, both of which call for retaining silver in reduced amount in half dollars. A fight to restore this provision will be made, as well as a last-ditch stand by representatives of silver-producing states to keep some silver in other coins.

The Senate has scheduled action on three appropriations measures for the early part of the week and hopes to get to the omnibus housing bill Wednesday. There will be a renewal of the fight over a controversial rent supplement provision that brought the administration its biggest scare of the session in the House two weeks ago. The rent proposal survived by a margin of only 208 to 202 before the $5.3-billion housing measure won approval on a 425-166 roll call vote.

Two important conferences between House and Senate representatives will be held to work out differences between the voting rights and Social Security-medical care bills.

Not too much difficulty is expected in reaching agreement on the Social Security measure, but differences over poll taxes could cause the voting bill conferees trouble.

The House banned poll taxes in the bill it passed 333 to 85 Friday night. The Senate version provides for a prompt test of their constitutionality. The administration favors the Senate approach, and this may determine the outcome.

U. S. Marines Respond to 'Enemy' Fire

KENOSHA (AP) — The U.S. Marines were engaged in a training problem at the abandoned Bong Air Force Base around 3 a.m. Sunday — using blank ammunition — when they heard the sound of other shots.

So the Marines, members of the Second Battalion of the 24th Reserve, sent out patrols and corralled two 19-year-old youths from Northern Illinois, along with their rifles, a pistol and ammunition.

Sheriff's deputies questioned the pair and searched their car, finding more ammunition and a couple of bayonets.

Conservation Warden Robert Winnie was called in when the youths said they had been raccoon hunting.

The two were lodged overnight in the Kenosha County jail. The sheriff's department said the disposition of their cases is a matter for the district attorney, the Marine Corps and conservation authorities.

GREEN BAY (AP) — Fire, blamed on grease in a kitchen ventilating system, caused an estimated $10,000 damage to Norm's Restaurant on Green Bay's far north side Saturday night.

Efficiency Would be Increased

Gemini 7 Astronauts Might Shed Pressurized Suits on Next Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Space officials are pondering the possibility of sending astronauts Frank Borman and James A. Lovell on their 14-day Gemini flight without space suits.

Borman, 37, an Air Force major and command pilot for Gemini 7, discussed the plan today. The Tucson, Ariz., astronaut said lack of time for a complete study of the plan was the reason that L. Gordon Cooper Jr., an Air Force major and Navy Lt. Comdr. Charles Conrad had been turned down in their suggestion that they go without suits on the Gemini 5 eight-day mission. Their flight is expected Aug. 19.

He wasn't too optimistic about the officials' approving the no-suit proposal for his flight, either.

Best Job
"I'm not pushing for it," he said. "I want to do the best job I can. To do that job, the best way I know how, I must be operating at top efficiency. I believe I can do that with the least encumbrance."

Borman, a backup crewman for Gemini 4, said if the proposal is turned down, the space suit worn would be much lighter than the 33-pound suit worn by Edward H. White during his 20-minute space walk.

"We don't plan to get out of the spaceship or open the hatch," he said.

The space suit is a backup protection in case pressure or oxygen is lost inside the space capsule. U.S. astronauts have removed their helmets, which depressurizes their suits, while in flight.

Three Soviet cosmonauts reportedly flew in one spaceship Oct. 12, 1964, without spacesuits, wearing street clothes.

Uncomfortable Stint
Borman said that 14 days in a spaceship could be uncomfortable and decrease efficiency.

"But the possibility of going without suits is almost negligible," he said. "And I wouldn't want to go without a suit if studies showed it would be dangerous."

Borman and his copilot, Navy Cmdr. Lovell, also 37, are expected to be shot into orbit late this year or early 1966.

Borman said there had been a plan to rendezvous with either a spent Agena rocket or the second stage of the Titan booster used to place the two men in orbit.

"We won't dock with it, of course," Borman said. "nor will we try to keep up with it. We plan to take our time, saving fuel. We will have two weeks to do it, and we don't plan to be in any hurry."

Army Considers Changing Second Unit for Helicopter Operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is studying whether one more division should be converted into a helicopter-borne outfit designed for swift thrusts, particularly in a country like South Viet Nam.

The study is under way less than a month after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara authorized the formation of the first such division, called "airmobile."

The 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) came into being formally on July 1 at Ft. Benning, Ga. No final decision has been made on whether to send it to South Viet Nam later on, sources said. 15,800 Men

The airmobile division is made up of about 15,800 men. It has both regular infantry and paratrooper brigades. After being carried close to the combat zone by Air Force transports, the airmobile soldiers would mount up in their 428 helicopters and ride to the battle.

The Army is due to come in with its recommendations involving a possible second airmobile division in time for drafting the next defense budget late this year.

It is not known yet whether another infantry division or one of the two wholly paratrooper divisions would be converted.

The Army now has 16 divisions. In addition to the new 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile and the two airborne outfits, they break down into eight infantry divisions, one mechanized infantry division and four armored divisions.

The Defense Department has said the airmobile division was adopted "because of its special capabilities which are not found in the other divisions."

The airmobile unit, the Pentagon said, "will make its greatest contribution to improved combat effectiveness in operations where terrain obstacles and underdeveloped communications networks could give enemy guerrillas or light infantry forces an advantage over our standard formations."

Largest Nuclear Power Plant in World Being Built in Washington

KENNEWICK, Wash. (AP) — Rising from the desert is a huge nuclear power plant which this fall will start producing electricity for the Northwest.

Its builders, the Washington Public Power Supply System, call it the world's largest nuclear power plant. The first power is expected this autumn. By early next year, say the builders, the plant will produce 800,000 kilowatts of electricity.

The electricity will be tied into the Bonneville Power Administration's sub-station at Vantage, Wash., by a 23-mile long, 500,000-volt transmission line. Bonneville power is used throughout the Northwest.

Laird Asks Bliss Use Prestige to Discourage GOP Splinter Groups

Chairman Calls for Unity in '66 Congressional Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican national chairman Ray C. Bliss was urged today by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., to use the prestige of his office to discourage all splinter organizations.

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said all GOP organizations should unite behind Bliss and work with him and the House and Senate congressional campaign committees toward congressional victories in 1966.

Bliss, who took over the national chairmanship earlier this year from Dean Burch, the personal appointee of former Sen. Barry Goldwater, recently attacked the Free Society Association formed by Goldwater.

Weaken Party
It is Laird's position that Bliss should go farther than naming one organization, and seek to discourage all such groups because they could weaken the general structure of the Republican party.

"Republicans are becoming over-organized in splinter groups and as a direct result badly organized as a national party," Laird said.

Bliss criticized the Free Society Association on the basis that it would divert campaign funds from the national committee.

"It will do the cause of party unity more good if the national chairman of the Republican party will make it clear that he is against all outside groups and not just selected organizations," Laird said.

Hyphenated Republicanism
"The luxury of hyphenated Republicanism, liberal, moderate, conservative, Eisenhower, Nixon, Goldwater, Rockefeller, and so forth, has and could continue to cost our party dearly," Laird said.

The GOP can recoup its losses and make substantial gains in 1966, Laird said, "but it will not if we fragment."

"The first order of business for the Republican National Committee is to rivet its attention on assuring substantial Republican gains in the House and Senate in 1966," he said.

Laird said Bliss and the National Committee could not do an effective job unless all groups in the party united behind his leadership.

Weapons Spread Urgent Problem Says AEC Head

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg today termed the potential spread of nuclear weapons as "one of the urgent problems facing mankind."

Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said in a copyrighted interview in "U.S. & World Report" that a large number of countries have the means of developing nuclear weapons over a period of years.

At present, only five nations—the United States, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China—have nuclear weapons.

The bomb in the hands of the Chinese Communists, he said, poses "one of the critical problems—the questions of whether India and others are going to feel that they must take this nuclear path because the Red Chinese have."

washed out Chicago at Baltimore and Boston at Washington. Scattered Seven Hits Chance scattered seven hits and didn't allow a runner past first base after the fourth inning as he beat the Indians for the first time since Sept. 21, 1963.

Chance also drove in Tom Satriano from second base with a surprise bunt single in the fifth inning for the Angels' first run.

The victory pushed the Angels into sixth place ahead of the Yankees, who were one pitch away from stopping the Twins. But Harmon Killebrew turned the 3-2 pitch from Pete Mikkelsen into a two-run homer, his 16th.

The Yankees, now 14 1/2 games back, had taken a 5-4 lead in their half of the ninth when Elston Howard scored on pitcher Gerry Fosnow's error. Fosnow took Roger Repoz' two-out bouncer down the first base line but dropped the ball as he tagged Repoz.

Hank Aguirre gave Kansas City 11 hits but still won his 10th game against four defeats for Detroit. He was backed with home runs by Gates Brown, Norm Cash and Dick McAuliffe.

Former Braves' Scout Still Sighs Over Failure to Sign Willie Mays

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Braves might never have left Boston for Milwaukee if they had made the right decision on a Birmingham center fielder 15 years ago.

A former scout for the then Boston Braves, William Maughn, sighed over a cup of coffee with Birmingham News Sports Editor Benny Marshall as he related how he had first grabbed at Willie Mays, only to be overruled by higher authority.

The New York Giants, who later found gold in San Francisco, weren't so hesitant and signed Mays for the bargain basement price of $14,000 — $10,000 to the owner of the Birmingham Black Barons, who owned Mays and $4,000 to the lad himself.

Maughn, who now hunts baseball players in the southeast for the Los Angeles Angels, first saw Willie in 1949 when he stopped by Birmingham to catch a Black Baron game.

No Lineups
"I just walked in with no lineups or anything, not expecting anything, really," Maughn said. "The left fielder for Birmingham couldn't throw. Dallas had runners on first and third and it was the second inning. The next hitter hit the ball off the scoreboard and the left fielder got it."

"The center fielder came running over yelling, 'give it to me, give it to me,' and the left fielder shovel passed it to him like a football player and the center fielder threw out the runner trying to go from first to third."

A couple of more plays like that convinced Maughn that this youngster needed watching. Maughn said he followed Willie for the rest of the season and into the spring of the next.

"All he ever thought about or talked about was playing ball," Maughn said. "He was pleading with me to sign him by then, but the Braves had just paid $150,000 for Sam Jethroe, their first Negro player, and they moved slower back then, as you know."

However, Maughn said the Braves sent a liaison man down from the front office to look at Mays. "For some reason unknown to me then or now, he passed him up. He said, 'no,'" Maughn said. "The decision cost them dearly because Maughn tipped Giant scout Eddie Montague about Mays and within a few weeks the youngster who grew up in the shadow of U.S. Steel's giant mortals program in Memorial Stadium."

The ceremony this year includes a game between American and National League players who were All-Star team selections in 1945. The contest was canceled because of wartime travel restrictions.

Rockford Police Shoot Suspect In Dells Robbery
ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Police shot one man after a police gunfight and arrested two others at their homes Sunday in an investigation of a Wisconsin Dells, Wis., robbery earlier in the day.

Jack R. Thomas, 23 of Rockford, was taken to a hospital with bullet wounds in his head and left hand. He was expected to survive, police said.

The two others were Patterson Robert Gates, 22, also of Rockford, and Raymond G. Fuca of the Rockford area. They were held for investigation of a $1,000 robbery at the Paul Bunyan restaurant at Wisconsin Dells.

The hunt for Thomas began Sunday when police, acting on a tip from Sauk County, Wis., sheriff's police, came to Thomas' home to arrest him. He reportedly crawled out a window and fled on foot. About 30 policemen joined in the chase.

National Public Links Tourney Tees Off Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A field of 150, cream of the nation's public course golfers, tees off at North Park today in the 40th National Public Links Golf Championship.

Headed by defending champion Billy McDonald of Topeka, Kan., the field plays 18 holes of stroke play today and Tuesday to determine the low 64 scorers who meet in match play starting Wednesday.

The two survivors will meet Saturday in a 36-hole finale for the James D. Standish Jr. Cup and exemption from qualifying for the prestigious National Amateur later this summer.

The players, who qualified last month at 54 courses in 35 states, have been practicing since Thursday and they're almost unanimous in their praise of the North Park course, a 6,781-yard par 36-35-71 layout that is owned and operated by Allegheny County.

Giles Raps Grobschmidt

'Image' Created In Milwaukee Not as Expected

CINCINNATI (AP)—National League President Warren Giles has called "irresponsible and uncouth statements" a drawback to Milwaukee's efforts to keep major league baseball.

"The image being created in Milwaukee this year by statements and by attendance has not been the image that we all felt would be created," Giles said Saturday. "The irresponsible and uncouth statements that have been made in Milwaukee haven't helped. And if you are going to ask, do I mean Grobschmidt, you can draw your conclusions."

Milwaukee County Board Chairman Eugene Grobschmidt and Braves Manager Bobby Bragan called each other "dim-witted" last week in an exchange over Grobschmidt's questioning whether the team was playing up to its potential.

Cincinnati Reds President Bill De Witt said there was "no chance—none at all" of county officials winning an antitrust suit against baseball.

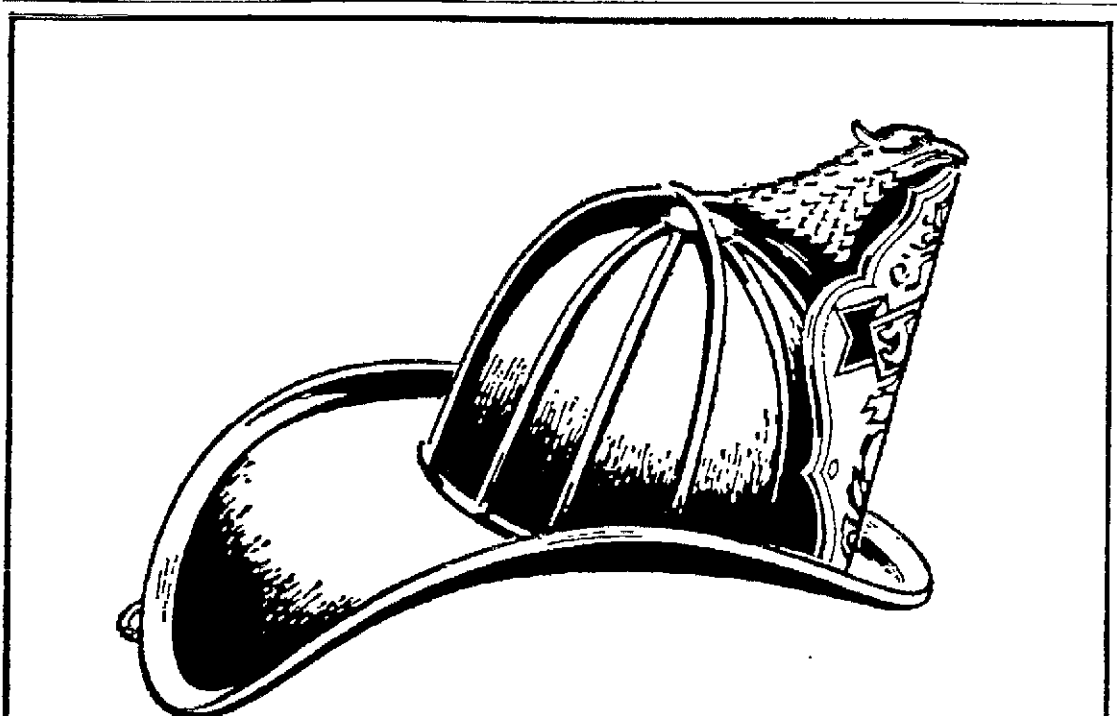

"The Braves owners," he said, "are in the same position as a tenant who has leased a building, paid the rent, lived up to his contract—and now wants to move to a new location down the street. There is no law to stop that."

Brother-Sister Act Win Western Tennis Titles

Cliff, Nancy Richey Sweep Honors in Milwaukee Tourney

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Cliff and Nancy Richey make up a brother-sister act that is tough to follow.

The Richeys, from Dallas, made it family day at the Western Open Tennis Tournament Sunday.

Cliff, 18, and Nancy, 22, each won a singles title in convincing fashion. In addition, Nancy teamed with Caroline Caldwell Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, to take the doubles.

It was the second time they swept singles in a tournament this year. They previously accomplished the feat in May at the Dallas Invitational.

Cliff, presently 11th ranked in the nation, had to combat more than human opponents to win Saturday night he had an attack of tonsillitis that sent his temperature up to 100. Toward the end of his final set Sunday, he

Dean Chance Hurls Shutout Indians Riled Up Over Solly Hemus' Ejection

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Angels' two fifth-inning runs against loser Lee Stange, 4-2, huff Sunday night, apparently sorer at the umpires than over their loss of four straight games to the Los Angeles Angels.

Third base coach Solly Hemus was ejected from Sunday's game for the second day in a row and outfielder Leon Wagner faces a possible fine and suspension after kicking dirt on plate umpire Bill Haller.

Birdie Tebbetts, the Cleveland manager, was so agitated by Haller's expulsion of Hemus that he announced he was protesting the game on "moral" grounds.

"I didn't really have grounds to lodge a protest and I won't file one with the league office," Tebbetts said after the 2-0 defeat, "but I wanted to show our disapproval of the way Haller handled things. They (the umpires) acted as if they were out to get Hemus because of what happened Saturday night."

Hemus was kicked out of the Saturday night game when he strongly protested umpire Ed Runge's "out" call at third base against Cleveland runner Vic Davalillo.

In the second inning Sunday, Hemus was expelled by Haller over something that happened while Wagner was at bat. "Leon took a half swing at a 'bad pitch,'" Hemus said later, "and I yelled down to him to swing at strikes."

"Pretty Obvious"

"Haller told me to get back into the coaching box. Then when Wagner flied out, Haller ripped off his mask and told me I was out of the game. He admitted later to Birdie that I hadn't used profanity."

"He said he just wanted to get me out of the game. It is pretty obvious that they (the umpires) were out to get me. I think Haller and Runge are a disgrace to baseball."

Wagner kicked dirt on Haller after the plate umpire called him out on strikes in the ninth inning.

Dean Chance's seven-hitter for the Angels gave them their third straight shutout over Cleveland and a sweep of the four-game set with the Indians, who dropped five games behind pace-setting Minnesota in the American league race.

Chance lobbed a bunt single over a drawn-in Cleveland infield to knock in the first of the

That's why the course of consumer spending in the next few weeks, and even more importantly in the fall, will be watched so closely as a tip-off.

Consumer spending is the biggest of the three important props of the economy. A second, business spending for increased activities, inventories and expansion, has been rising and seem likely to keep on doing so. In spite of tax cuts and budget pruning pledges, the third prop, spending by federal, state and local governments, is as assured of rising in the future as anything can be.

Confidence is a fragile thing. But the wherewithal can be measured.

The sharp advance in consumer buying power in the last four years — even allowing for the rise in the cost of living — is perhaps the most revealing tag to be applied to today's prosperity. In 1960 total personal income was $401 billion. Now it is running at an annual rate of $517 billion. Subtract personal taxes paid to the three levels of government, and Americans still have close to $450 billion to spend.

Obvious Affluence Much of the income of lower-bracket families goes for the essentials. The middle and higher brackets have more discretion. They account for much of today's obvious affluence.

The sharp advance since 1960 in the number of families making $7,000 a year or more is pointed out by economists of the Northern Trust Company, Chicago.

In 1960 some 20 per cent of American families were in the $7,000-$9,999 range, and at the start of this year 23 per cent were. In the last four years the number earning $10,000 to $14,999 a year rose from 11 per cent of all families to more than 16 per cent. The percentage making $15,000 to $24,999 nearly doubled and is now 5.2 of the total.

And ahead? The Chicago economists say:

"With (factory) backlogs still rising, Social Security benefit payments soon to be increased, and business and consumer spending intentions remaining buoyant, further income gains appear likely in the months ahead."

That would take care of the wherewithal. Just how the public will dispose of it is something the economists can only guess.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Bill Involving Indian Lands Seems Doomed

House Questions Legitimacy of Plan To Acquire Area

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The Conservation Department's wish to acquire for public use 200,000 acres of the timberlands of Menominee Enterprises, Inc., representing the holdings of the former Menominee Indian tribe, is almost surely doomed, according to developments in the Wisconsin Assembly as that house adjourned its business for the weekend.

Deep-seated legislative doubt about the wisdom or the legitimacy of the Conservation Department's plan to float state bonds to acquire the Indian lands was shown in a skirmish between Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi of Minocqua, one of the leaders of the Republican caucus, and Assemblyman Norman Anderson of Madison, chairman of the Conservation Committee of the Assembly which is handling the bill.

'Land Grab' Alfonsi bluntly called the department's bill a "land grab."

While Anderson parried Alfonsi's move to withdraw the bill from committee so that the house would have a chance to kill it outright, the Madison assemblyman virtually confirmed that the measure cannot pass when, he said, he will also oppose it and recommend its rejection when it comes to the floor.

Anderson told Alfonsi that he wanted to hold the bill in committee as a courtesy to Republican Gov. Warren Knowles, who had asked for such delay. The fact that the governor, once favorably inclined toward the state purchase, now wants a delay is also a sign of the dubious prospects of the ambitious plan of the conservation administration.

Continue Plan

Under the department plan, the state would continue to supply to the lumber mill of Menominee Enterprises the raw materials needed for the continuation of its operations.

Some of the non-resident members of the corporation, anxious to convert the worth of their corporation stocks and bonds to cash, are backing the idea of a sale to the state. But the Indian residents of Menominee County and the corporation management are bitterly opposed. Estimates of the probable selling value of 200,000 acres of prime timberland have ranged up to $50 million.

Your Money's Worth Taxes, Federal Buying Will Affect '66 Economy

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A business upturn at a slower pace than in 1965's hectic first quarter is a cinch through the balance of this year. But 1966 could tell a different economic story—unless the federal government takes aggressive fiscal measures to sustain the expansion's pace.

Steps will be taken. A multi-billion dollar increase in Federal government spending is a certainty to help swing the budget to the "stimulating" side. New income tax cuts are at least a 50-50 bet to help swell the buying power of consumers, particularly in lower-middle income groups.

As of today, there are two major reasons for uncertainty about the 1966 business pattern.

First is the probability that the rate of rise in business spending on new plant and equipment will slacken and there will be adjustments in inventories too. This means the economy won't be getting the spur it is now getting from this vital type of spending.

Deflationary Tax

Second is the prospect that, as matters now shape up, the spending and taxing policies will be exerting a deflationary impact on our economy early next year.

At the risk of oversimplification, but with the aim of explaining this crucially important second point, here is a breakdown of the effect of the federal budget on the economy in early 1966.

The spending-taxing policies of the federal government will be pouring additional funds into the economy at an annual rate of $7 billion in the first half of 1966. Specifically:

—$2 billion will be added because the personal income tax cuts voted in 1964 will be fully effective then. There will be a sharp increase in tax refunds; adjustments to the lower tax rates will be completed and many individuals will be making smaller tax payments.

—$1.75 billion will be added because the second stage of the excise tax cuts just voted will become effective in January.

—$3.25 billion will be added because of increases in "regular" government spending already scheduled in today's budget.

But, simultaneously, the spending-taxing policies of the federal government will be subtracting extra funds from the economy at an annual rate

Knowles Ultimatum Hints at Surtax Veto

Threat of Pared Salaries In Pressure on Democrats To Support Compromise

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—If the Democratic majority in the Wisconsin Assembly insists upon the adoption of a personal income surtax to pay for higher state spending, Wisconsin won't have a budget for the next two years and will be forced to continue with the lower spending authorizations of 1964 and 1965, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said today.

Knowles, at a news conference, apparently intended to convey the idea that he will veto a surtax, if such a proposal reaches him.

Evidently trying to put pressure on the Democrats who have thus far refused to support his version of a compromised revenue settlement, the Governor also described some of the probably complications that would result from a continued taxing stalemate in the legislature.

Pared Salaries

George Kaiser, commissioner of administration, said that one of the likely consequences of the failure of a new budget will be some across-the-board paring of state salaries starting at the end of August.

Wayne McGown, director of finance, who also attended the Knowles news conference, said there is a likelihood that several new state welfare institutions, including newly built units for the care of mentally retarded children will remain empty and unused because of the lack of money to staff them.

Knowles said he believes some progress toward a fiscal settlement has been made during the last month of bitter political struggle with the legislature's bipartisan acceptance of an $822 million spending level that virtually squares with his own recommendations of four months ago and the legislative recognition of the need for combining a budget and tax bill.

Revenue Choices

But he said the legislature must be prepared for "give and take" on revenue choices, and offer to take "complete authority and responsibility" if the ruling assembly Democrats accept his income and sales tax proposal offered last February.

He repeated that he is willing to discuss tax settlement when the lawmakers, as expected, set up a negotiation committee representing both houses this week in recognition of the deadlock between the assembly and the senate that has lasted for a month.

Knowles also remarked that as far as he has discerned, the public thus far has been largely indifferent to the tax conflict at the statehouse and has not yet put pressure upon the legislature "to do its constitutional duty."

Weekend Traffic Fatality Toll 15

8 Killed Sunday in Two Washington County Wrecks; Area Mishaps Take 2 Lives

Eight persons lost their lives Sunday in a pair of Washington County accidents while two Fox Valley area accidents each claimed a victim.

The deaths brought Wisconsin's weekend highway fatality count to 15 and raised the state's 1965 toll to 471, compared to 527 on this date a year ago. The Fox Valley area deaths were the 12th this year in Outagamie County and the ninth in Winnebago County.

One of the Fox Valley victims was William Unmuth, 19, 222 E. Spring St., Appleton, who was injured fatally in an accident Tuesday on W. Prospect Avenue near St. Mary Cemetery.

Passenger in Car

Unmuth was a passenger in a car driven by Clair Stoffel, 18, 214 E. Spring St. He was one of four persons injured in the crash, and had not regained consciousness since the collision.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said he will order an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death. The youth died at about 1:30 a.m. today.

Thomas E. Doro, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Doro, 527 Susan St., Combined Locks, was killed about 5 a.m. today in a one-car smashup on Quigley Road in Town of Winneconne.

Rammed Abutment

Authorities said Doro's car rammed into a concrete bridge abutment and he was thrown from the car and into the bridge abutment on the opposite side of the road. He was found slumped over the railing.

Doro was pronounced dead on arrival at Mercy Hospital in SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Main participants in one of the West's wildest kidnap - chases settled down today in familiar surroundings — the Champion family at home and their abductors in jail.

A July 21 date in federal court was the next stop for Wilford Marion Gray, 30, and Carl Cleotis Bowles, 24, Cecil Poole, U.S. attorney for Northern California, said Sunday the pair will be tried "swiftly and fairly" on federal charges of kidnapping State Finance Director Hale Champion, his wife Marie and their 19-month-old daughter Katherine Marie.

Poole's decision put to rest for the time being a jurisdictional quarrel among the federal government, Sacramento County officials and Oregon authorities. All wanted to try the two gunmen on charges ranging from rape, robbery and murder in Oregon to kidnapping with bodily harm in California.

1st Division Landing

U. S. Viet Nam Troops Total Hiked to 71,000

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The first large force of U.S. combat infantrymen—3,900 men of the 1st Infantry Division—began landing in Viet Nam today.

The first 1,000 men of "Big Red One" as the division was known in World War II, landed at strategic Cam Ranh Bay, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, and dug in on the sand dunes.

The remainder of the famed division's 2nd Brigade will land elsewhere in Viet Nam Tuesday, a U.S. spokesman said.

The landings will bring the total of U.S. troops in Viet Nam to 71,000.

Protest Engineers

The brigade commander, Col. James Simmons, said the first mission of his troops will be to protect the U.S. Army's 35th Engineer group, which is working on harbor improvements at the huge bay.

"Later, when we get our feet on the ground, we'll get out there and find the Viet Cong," he said.

There has been little Viet Cong action in the area of the bay in recent months, but a big Communist buildup has been reported in the hills and mountains inland from it. U.S. sources said Communist strength may be as much as a regiment.

Thirty U.S. Air Force planes made repeated strikes on ordnance depots north of Hanoi today, military spokesmen said.

One mission took four F102s and eight F4s, with three other aircraft in support, over the Yen Bai depot, 77 miles northwest of Hanoi. The pilots reported destroying two buildings and damaging three others, and damaging two railroad cars in a railroad maintenance yard just south of the depot.

Fifteen planes attacked the Yen Se ordnance depot and ammunition dump about 65 miles northwest of Hanoi, the spokesmen said, and pilots reported damaging four buildings.

2 Explosions Blast Chicago Firm Vehicles

None Injured in Latest of Series Of Five Bombings

CHICAGO (AP) — Two more explosions tore through the Chicago darkness early today. The latest blasts came shortly before 3 a.m. in the West Side parking lot of an ice cream firm. Police said no one was injured.

The explosions ripped apart three ice cream trucks used by the firm. Police said the blasts blew out windows in nearby buildings and awoke many families.

A total of five mysterious explosions have occurred in the Chicago area since early Wednesday. Three of the blasts rocked the downtown section of the city.

Rigged to Bumpers Police said that the explosives used in the latest blasts were rigged to the bumpers of the ice cream trucks.

Two men were reportedly seen running from the scene of this morning's explosions and police were searching the West Side area.

The third bomb blast occurred late Sunday night in downtown Chicago. No injuries were reported in that blast.

Police said Sunday night's explosion occurred under a car belonging to an employee of the Chicago Tribune. Three cars were damaged by the explosion and dozens of windows were blown out in the nearby Wrigley Building in the Northern downtown section near the Chicago River.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn, who lives two blocks away, said he felt the explosion in his apartment.

On the scene Quinn said, "it has all the appearances of a bomb blast."

Radar Plane Ditched Late Sunday

Ten of 19 Air Force Crew Are Rescued From Atlantic

FALMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — Ten men were rescued and eight bodies recovered today from the 19-man crew of a U.S. Air Force plane down in the North Atlantic.

The Coast Guard said one member of the crew was missing.

The rescued men were taken aboard U.S. and German destroyers in the vicinity of the crash 145 miles east northeast of Nantucket.

Aboard Destroyer

The bodies all were reported aboard the U.S. destroyer Barry out of Newport, R.I. Three survivors also were aboard the Barry.

Helicopters from the U.S. carrier Wasp, on maneuvers in the area along with the German navy vessels, picked up most of the crewmen and deposited them on board one of the German ships.

At least two men were picked up by small boats.

Names of the survivors and other crewmen were not immediately available.

The rescues were undertaken despite a fog which limited visibility to from 50 to 100 yards.

The seas were reported as moderate, yet too rough for a sea plane to land.

German Ships

The German vessels, operating on maneuvers with the USS Wasp, are the former American destroyers USS Anthony, USS Ringgold and the USS Wadsworth.

The men were put aboard the vessel formerly known as the Anthony and now carrying the name Blotter.

The Coast Guard at Boston said there was no report on the rescued men's identity nor was any word received immediately on their conditions.

Because of poor visibility, the Coast Guard said, the rescues probably were made by small boats from the German ship, one of four which have been on maneuvers with the American aircraft carrier Wasp for the past week.

The Coast Guard said its reports indicate only 10 of the 19 crew members have been sighted.

Spokesmen at Otis Air Force Base said some reports indicated 15 men had been sighted in the water.

A search area of 80 square miles have been clocked off, the Coast Guard said.

Mariner 4 Nears Target of Mission

AP Science Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP)

— If the U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 could talk, it probably would say: "M-M-man, it's c-c-cold up here."

The temperature on the shady side of the 575-pound, windmill shaped craft is 130 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

It's so cold 132 million miles out in space—that's where Mariner 4 is today, only two days away from its July 14 picture-taking date with Mars—that one of its scientific instruments is chattering like a tropical monkey in a snowstorm. Its radio gibberish is completely unintelligible, even to computers.

The instrument, called a solar plasma probe, is one of several which scientists hope will provide more really new information about Mars than the 21 photographs Mariner 4's television camera can take.

The probe, designed to measure the hot, radioactive gases—called plasma—boiling off from the sun, went haywire 10 days after Mariner 4 was launched Nov. 28. Jet Propulsion Laboratory engineers said a resistor had failed. They rigged a computer to compensate for the failure and for a while made some sense of the data the instrument was radioing to earth.

But the farther the spacecraft went away from the sun in its curving voyage out to Mars, the colder it got. Weakened by the resistor failure, the plasma probe became more temperate—dependent than other parts of the craft. Eventually, decoding the gibberish took more expensive computer time than was feasible.

Mariner 4 was designed to maintain an internal temperature of 55 to 85 degrees Fahrenheit despite the cold of space, absorbing just enough heat from the sun to supplement heat generated by its electrical instruments. But even this narrow range was too much for the sick plasma probe. It chattered from the cold.

The probe is ailing, but not dead yet. There is hope that when the television camera is turned on July 14 the camera may generate enough heat to revive the plasma-measuring device. Or, the shock front of plasma believed concentrated in the neighborhood of Mars may be intense enough to register on the probe's radiation counter.

This Drawing Shows the sequence of events when Mariner 4 flies past Mars Wednesday in an effort to take closeup pictures of the planet and transmit them back to earth. After a 25-minute picture-taking encounter, the spacecraft will pass behind Mars. Its radio signals passing through Mars' atmosphere will be measured in an effort to determine the density and depth of the air. (AP Wirephoto)

Cabinet Level Conference

Closer Economic Ties With Japan Advocated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the fourth U.S.-Japan joint cabinet committee conference today with a call for increased economic efforts by the two countries in Southeast Asia.

He told the seven Japanese cabinet officers and their American counterparts that the two countries share a particular interest in Southeast Asia where freedom is threatened by aggressive neighbors.

In response, Japan's foreign minister, Eisaku Shibusawa, said Japan has been taking "increased responsibility in the sphere of international economy, and in particular to our Asian neighbors."

Constant Effort Shibusawa said that the progress already made in Japan-U.S. cooperative ties "will lose its firm basis unless it is accompanied by constant and strenuous efforts to bring about appropriate solutions to each and every one as such problems that may arise between our two countries."

Rusk said that wide variety of difficult problems could be expected from competition that develops between vigorous trading nations.

"As old problems are solved new ones emerge," he said.

But Rusk said that the United States and Japan must not let economic problems obscure the broader concern both countries share in the welfare of other countries of the world particularly in Asia.

Trade With China

U.S. officials said that for the first time in years, little was being said to Japan about its increasing trade with Communist China.

Japan's trade with Peking this year will rise to $430 million, up about 40 per cent over 1964, according to the Japan-Communist China Export-Import Society.

By comparison, U.S. trade with Japan is expected to exceed $4 billion this year and with trade only slightly in favor of the United States.

In welcoming the seven Japanese Cabinet ministers, their wives and top advisers Sunday night at Andrews Air Force Base, Rusk praised Japan for "rapidly assuming responsibility and leadership to go with its position" as one of the great industrial powers of the world.

This appeared the opening move by the U.S. delegation to win pledges of greater cooperation from Japan in economic projects that would supplement President Johnson's proposed $1-billion Asian development program.

The Cabinet ministers will have a luncheon meeting with President Johnson at the end of their discussions, and will leave Thursday for Tokyo.

New York GOP Leader Hits At Rockefeller

Charges Governor Can't Win; Poll Favors Sen. Javits

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—A strongly-worded letter by a prominent upstate party leader inciting revolt against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is becoming the underground political manifesto of rebellious New York Republicans.

Author of this bold declaration is State Sen. John Hughes, a Republican power in populous Onondaga County (Syracuse). Hughes puts in blunt terms what other New York Republican chieftains have been whispering ever since Rockefeller announced he would seek a third term in 1966: that Rockefeller not only cannot be re-elected but would carry the party down with him.

These sentiments were put on paper by Hughes in a May 14 private letter to Sen. Jacob Javits, urging that Javits get the governor to step aside in 1966.

Wants Javits

Hughes' implied replacement for Governor: the highly popular Javits. However, Javits apparently did not follow up Hughes' suggestions.

Indeed, the Hughes-to-Javits letter would have remained private correspondence had not Hughes sent copies to other politicians. Some of them reproduced the letter and circulated it among an appreciative underground party audience. Consequently, we can disclose the letter's contents for the first time.

Hughes reflects Republican disenchantment with Rockefeller, both upstate and in New York City, and tells why: "... a campaign in which the governor runs for re-election will bring nothing but disaster."

Hughes continues in blunt words: "It gets down to a rather basic decision, that is, whether the party should be irreparably damaged because of one person. The governor's statement... that he would seek re-election, appears to be one of desperation, designed to head off possible Republican opposition. Again he did not advise either the Republican (legislative) leaders or the lieutenant governor."

Stressing that, "This is not a personal matter with me, but rather an effort to help save the Republican party in New York state from a loss which it will not readily recover," Hughes depicts a party in search of a leader.

"The fact is we are totally lacking in leadership and the governor cannot lead since there are very few who will follow. He has no right to take the party, the legislature and Oshkosh by Winnebago County Coroner Art C. Miller. Miller said Doro received broken ribs, a fractured neck, broken arms, broken shoulder, laceration of the chin and internal injuries.

Sheriff Marvin R. Pepper said the Doro car was headed west on Quigley Road, a half-mile south of Mueller Road, and the car went off the road for 67 feet, 7 inches before striking the bridge abutment, breaking off a portion of it. The 1956 model car had no seat belts.

Winnecoonne Area Doro had formerly lived in the Winnecoonne area and was staying with a sister, Mrs. Ronald Coats, route 2, Omro, while hauling milk for a dairy. He was taken to Mercy Hospital in the Mueller ambulance of Winnecoonne. Doro was alone in the car.

The Winnecoonne Fire department was called to extinguish the fire which started when the car hit the bridge.

Other weekend fatalities reported by the Associated Press: Unmuth was born in Appleton Dec. 13, 1946, and was graduated from Xavier High School this spring. He is survived by his parents, a sister and four brothers, all at home.

Doro was born July 16, 1946, in Oshkosh. He is survived by his parents, two brothers at home, and four sisters, two at home.

Visiting hours for Doro will begin at the Jansen Funeral Home, Kimberly, at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Killed Sunday evening in a car-train collision at a crossing in Germantown were Robert L. Erickson, 43; his wife, Irene, 44; Edward Muellenbach, 49; and his wife, Lillian — all of Granton.

Four young persons, two of them returning from a wedding, were killed at 1 a.m. Sunday in a head-on collision on Highway 45 about four miles south of West Bend.

The victims were Richard Block, 20, of rural Cascade;

Phyllis Arndt, 20, of Plymouth; Albert Miller, 18, of Sussex, and Albert Hamby, 20, of Menomonie Falls.

Authorities said Block and Miss Arndt planned to be married in November. Hamby was a passenger in the car driven by Miller.

Deputies said a bell warning device was operating at the time of the Germantown accident.

Signals Ordered The Public Service Commission has ordered the North Western Road to install automatic signals, including flashing lights, at three crossings in the community.

William Ahles, 22, and Paul Kurzynski, 32, both of rural Mosinee, died early Sunday when their cars collided at the crest of a hill on old Highway 51 about four miles south of Knowlton, Marathon County. They were alone in their vehicles.

Jerry Pavelicek, 72, of Berwyn, Ill., was killed early Sunday in a two-car collision on a Lake Geneva street. Four others were injured seriously.

Joseph R. Wilk Jr., 22, of rural Wausau, died Saturday in a two-car crash north of Pelican Lake. Bruce Lipofski, 16, Menominee Falls, was killed when his bicycle was struck by a car Saturday while riding home from a part-time job.

State Klan Leader Quits After 4 Days

WAUKESHA (AP)—The man who set himself up as leader of the Wisconsin Ku Klux Klan has resigned after four days with the comment: "Nobody seemed to think much of the whole idea."

David John Harris, 36 cited outside pressure and news of a probe by the FBI as the cause of his resignation as a Klan member. He said he wrote to Robert Shelton, Tuscaloosa, Ala., Imperial Grand Wizard of the Klan, announcing his decision to drop out of the organization.

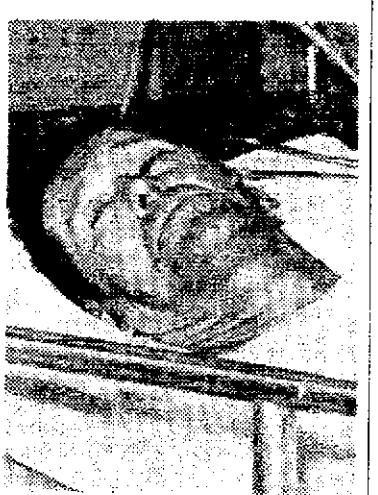

Harris had started the Klan controversy earlier in the week by saying he planned to start a Klan with as many as 50,000 members. An ad appeared in the Waukesha Freeman classified section directing interested people to a Post Office box in Mukwonago.

A reporter checked the box during the weekend and estimated that it contained about 20 letters.

Singer Expected To Recover From Accident Injuries

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Country music king Roy Acuff is in a great deal of pain but will recover from injuries suffered in a weekend auto accident in plenty of time to make a planned overseas tour in December. Acuff's personal physician said Sunday night.

Dr. Cleo Miller said the 58-year-old Grand Ole Opry star should "mend in about six weeks unless complications develop."

Grand Ole Opry guitarist Harold "Shot" Jackson remained in critical condition today in a Nashville hospital with skull and rib fractures and other internal injuries. Jackson was riding in the front seat of the expensive sedan driven by Acuff.

Acuff suffered a fractured pelvis, a broken collarbone and several shattered ribs in the auto mishap Saturday near Sparta, Tenn. A female vocalist, June Stearns, suffered a broken leg.

Charge Denied A Pentagon spokesman in Washington denied the Chinese charge.

A U.S. spokesman said 29 U.S. planes hammered at army barracks at the old French fortress of Dien Bien Phu, about 170 miles west of Hanoi. The pilots reported destroying 12 large buildings.

Other planes hit targets at Yen Bai, 77 miles northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman reported. He said pilots of four Air Force Phantom jets sighted two unidentified planes near Yen Bai, but the planes turned away and headed towards Communist China, 90 miles to the northwest.

The crew of four Air Force Phantoms who downed two Communist MIG17s Saturday were awarded silver stars and its air space by flying over the town of Hok'ou (or Kokow), in Saigon Sunday. The encounter Hunnan Province, on the border took place 25 to 35 miles north-west of Hanoi.

All the planes were reported to have returned safely.

Heavy air strikes against Viet Cong concentrations in South Viet Nam also were reported. The spokesmen said the planes hit encampments, supply areas, river shipping and troop concentrations.

In the air war Sunday, U.S. planes struck north of Hanoi in raids on North Viet Nam and attacked suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

Communist China claimed four American planes violated its air space by flying over the town of Hok'ou (or Kokow), in Saigon Sunday. The encounter Hunnan Province, on the border took place 25 to 35 miles north-west of Hanoi.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 38-year-old Shawano County man died of a skull fracture Saturday night less than a day after a tavern fight, police said. Police said a 25-year-old man was arrested in connection with the fight but was later released when the district attorneys' office said there was insufficient evidence for a charge. Detective Sgt. James Beck said officers had asked the district attorney's office to charge the man with aggravated battery. At the time, the victim, Kenney LeRoy of rural Gresham, was unconscious in Milwaukee County General Hospital. Police said that, after the fight, he had staggered outside and was found in a nearby parking lot.

Conflicting Stories Beck said police would take no further action in the case until they could consult the district attorney's office. Deputy Dist. Atty. Ben Weiner said he ordered the man released because it was unclear who struck the first blow and because two witnesses gave conflicting stories. He added that he had ordered police to continue their investigation.

National Organization

100 Families Expected at Manawa 'Dancer' Camporee

MANAWA — Approximately 100 camping families are expected at the Bear Lake camping grounds Friday through Sunday for the second annual National Square Dance Camporee Association Camporee. Reservations are being received from Indiana, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan.

Activities will begin with a kick-off dance Friday evening. Saturdays events include youth activities, dancing for children of all ages, the annual meeting of NSDCA Inc., and square dancing. No activities are planned for Sunday.

For association purposes, a camper is defined as "one, who at regular vacation intervals, resides at a vacation site, as in a woods, forest, seashore, etc., in a tent, trailer, cabin, or other temporary shelter, but not to include temporary residence in a motel, hotel, tourist room, or other organized facilities catering principal to transient travelers and vacationers and which normally furnish bedding, sanitary facilities, controlled air (heat) and other refinements of normal day-to-day living."

Started in 1962 "The organization was started by the Wolf Rivers Callers Association Inc. in 1962. By early January, 1964, it was apparent that the organization's growth depended on separation from the parent organization, so the National Square Dance Camporee Association was born. It is active in 37 states, from Connecticut to Nebraska.

Purpose of the non-profit association is to provide an opportunity for and to encourage those interested in both modern Western style square dancing and camping to combine these two activities for mutual enjoyment. Each unit or family pays its own campsite fees and personal expenses. This is the only organization of its type in the world.

A board of directors has been set up to include three callers and two dancers. The present board includes chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Siewers, Appleton, callers; vice chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vanderpool, Appleton, dancers; corresponding secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson, Oshkosh, callers; recording secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dorschner, Oshkosh, callers; and treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill, Green Bay, dancers.

Board of Directors The board appointed a committee for the 1965 camporee. General chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nicklaus, Marinette; vice chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elliott, Clintonville; square and round dance chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Johnson, Oshkosh; special and youth events, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Butler, Stevens Point; sound system, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brabender, Milwaukee; publicity, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Broas, Milwaukee; registration, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weber, Menomonee, Mich.; and maintenance superintendents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Crawford, Westfield.

The camporee and dancing activities are for members only. No new memberships will be accepted during the camporee week.

Annual Reports were given at the meeting and members discussed spraying to control mosquitoes. Three directors were elected to three-year terms. They were Vilas Krueger, who was re-elected, George McCauley and Ray Beyer. The terms of Krueger, Ed Rosenfeldt and Chuck Allard expired as directors. The board will meet Aug. 11 to elect its officers for the year.

Fremont C of C Plans Farm Day

FREMONT—A farm festival day is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce August 21. Farmers will be invited to bring their produce to the village. The program includes water fights, white elephant sale, corn roast and an evening of music, planned by a committee headed by Robert Spraky. Free ice cream will be served to the children during this second annual event.

A petition against the control of white bass will be prepared by the Fremont Chamber of Commerce and will be circulated by the members. A special evening of entertainment will be provided for the young people of the Fremont area who participated in the water shows at the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored water carnival. Members of the 4-H Club, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts will be guests at the party at Wolf River Crossing Park. Gordon Conat, Melvin Maierhafer and Clarence Sodke are planning the July 21 program.

Snow fencing will be installed around the 10,000 square feet of deer area at the Wolf River Crossing Park. Dale Ludtke, village maintenance man and policeman, will be in charge. It will be erected just outside the existing woven wire fencing as a measure to try to keep dogs from molesting the deer.

A special meeting with the chamber of commerce members of Weyauwega and Waupaca as guests was suggested at the C. of C. meeting Thursday. Members of the Fremont group who were judges at the Manawa Rodeo were Loren Stevens, Arthur Hepburn and Clyde Nelson.

Federal Funds Granted For Market Study of U of W Milk Product

WASHINGTON — A $21,000 appropriation of federal funds approved by the Budget Bureau for a cooperative marketing study of a new milk product developed by the University of Wisconsin has won the praise of Sen. Gaylord Nelson.

The study, to be directed by Prof. Truman Graf, is financed jointly by the university and the Agricultural Research Service. It will evaluate potential use of the new sterile condensed milk in outlets such as correctional and welfare institutions.

The Budget Bureau informed Nelson Friday that the project was approved. Federal funds involved total about $21,000.

Took 9 Years

Nine years of research went into the new product, considered superior to evaporated milk. The new product is reduced to one-third of its original volume and is easily mixed with water. The sterilization is done prior to canning, giving the new product taste and color advantages over evaporated milk.

Budget Bureau was told that projected retail prices of the milk concentrate show a savings per quart over fresh milk ranging from 5.62 cents for small cans to 6.38 cents in 96-fluid ounce cans. Larger cans would be used in the institutional market tests.

Several reasons why the new milk product can be sold at a much lower price than fresh fluid milk were cited.

Why Cheaper

First, the product can be made from manufacturing milk. If made from Grade A milk, it is in a lower class use in Milk Orders than packaged fresh milk.

Secondly, even though the product is reduced by two-thirds of its original volume, transportation costs can be reduced more than two-thirds because the product can move by rail, rather than by truck or air as is necessary with fresh milk.

Third, since canned milk concentrate has a long shelf life it can be handled as a staple product in stores. Distribution costs would be much less than those of fresh milk.

With price competition, it is a product which could increase overall milk sales and benefit the industry generally.

Show Opens Wednesday At Seymour

Barring the possibility of inclement weather, the 1965 Outagamie County Fair should be the largest in history, combining top flight professional entertainment with the biggest array of exhibits from the county.

To make room for the huge number of displays being entered, additional space has been utilized in the commercial building, Mike Burnas, Seymour, Outagamie County Fair Association president said this week.

Last year a record number of exhibits, over 6,000, were entered in the fair. If the present trend continues, 1965 should be the biggest yet, he said.

Initial Day

Wednesday, initial day of the exposition will see exhibitors entering and displaying of the exhibits. The evening's entertainment will consist of a tractor pulling contest featuring five tractor weight classes. Highlight of Wednesday's activities will be one contest with women piloting the tractors.

Rides and shows on the midway will be available at a reduced price until 5 p.m. in conjunction with Children's Day, which will be Thursday.

Throughout the five-day exposition children 12 and under will be admitted to the grounds free. Thursday, which will combine Children's Day with Appleton Night, will feature the "Golden Knights," a U. S. Army parachuting team, performing in front of the grandstand at 2 and 7 p.m.

All rides and shows on the midway will be available at reduced prices until 5 p.m.

Exhibit Judging

The morning and afternoon will be taken up with the exhibit judging. In addition to the parachuting exhibition, Appleton Night will feature a 7:30 p.m. concert by the Appleton City Band and a dignitary introduction at 7:55 p.m.

First performance of the "Carousel of Stars," starring recording artists Bobby Vinton, George Kirby, the Young Americans, the 13-piece recording orchestra of Peter Palmer and the Sue Charles Dancers, will be at 8 p.m. with a second performance at 10 p.m.

Wisconsin Pilot Spends Perilous Quarter Hour

By HAL BOYLE
 DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It all happened in 16 terrible minutes.
 In that incredible fraction of an hour, a U.S. Air Force pilot napalm-bombed a target, his plane caught fire, he bailed out, landed in enemy territory and was plucked to safety by a passing Army helicopter.
 "That's the only real emergency I've had in more than 4,000 hours in the air," said Capt. Edward F. Gallardo, 33, of Armstrong Creek, Wis.
 "I feel much safer flying a jet plane than I do driving an automobile."

Senate to Take Final Action on College Issue

Tax Question Had Sidetracked Earlier Decision

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
 MADISON—Unless the measure becomes entangled in the partisan pressures of the tax-budget issue before the legislature, a final decision may be reached this week on the proposal for the authorization of a new four-year collegiate institution in northeastern Wisconsin and another in the Racine-Kenosha area.

The bill had been scheduled for final action in the state senate last week, but was sidetracked when the senate leadership gave priority to the tax-budget deliberations.

As now scheduled, the measure will be a special order of business in the legislature's upper house Wednesday morning.

But in the uncertain state of the legislature's political organization, the anxious sponsors of the enabling legislation can not be sure of early action.

"There are some reports that the bill may become one of the bargaining levers of the party politicians in the struggle about tax policy."

Eager Backer

One of the most eager backers of the new school proposal is Assemblyman George Molinaro of Kenosha, one of the powerful men of the assembly Democratic majority which is locked in bitter combat with the Republican-controlled senate on a state tax program. Some legislators have the impression that one of the reasons for the delay of the new college bill in the senate is the desire of some Republicans to apply pressure upon Molinaro in the lower house.

As the measure stands before the senate, it contains an assembly-approved amendment to put both new schools under the management of the University of Wisconsin board of regents. There is substantial opposition to that amendment in the senate, and support for the original plan to have the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education choose between the University of Wisconsin and the state university system.

If the senate amends the bill again, it may mean that a conference committee of the two houses will be named to seek a compromise, and a further delay in the enactment of the bill.

Twins First
 "We started with twins," said the captain. "Then our next two were born on Sept. 21, a year apart, so with our first four kids we only had to celebrate two birthdays."

"That's what you call real family planning."

The fighter pilot's battle ordeal came on a recent Sunday when he had to skip morning religious services because of an early mission.

The mission was his 35th in some 40 days.

"I was first of our flight in on the target, some Viet Cong emplacements 42 miles south of here," said Gallardo. "I came in fast at 50 to 100 feet above the ground."

Pickle Button
 "I pushed what we call the pickle button to release the napalm cans. Immediately there was a loud explosion, and the cockpit filled with smoke. I didn't know whether I had been hit by ground fire, or something had gone wrong with the napalm.

Capt. Edward Gallardo

"But I couldn't see out. My plane was on fire."

Instinctively, he put the plane into a climb.

"The smoke began to clear, but my plane was burning badly. I didn't know whether it would blow up or not. But you don't bail out over a target area if you can help it, and I headed toward the sea."

"I got up to 5,000 feet. At 6,000 feet the speed began to bleed down. The plane started to roll. The controls had burned away. I had become just a passenger. I had to go."

Ejected From Plane

The captain jettisoned his canopy, pulled his triggers and was ejected.

"There was a big blast, and the next thing I knew I was floating down about 12 miles from the target area. It was a great view and I had plenty of time to think, but all I thought about was landing in a clear space."

Gallardo landed standing up between two houses in a native hamlet.

"I hit about 20 feet from a small boy," he said. "His eyes got big, he made a 180-degree turn and ran. I ran in the opposite direction toward a rice paddy, scattering dogs and chickens. I could be picked up there, but hide in the shrubbery around it if necessary."

Five planes circled protectively around his position and a pararescue team scrambled at the base here to get him. But an Army helicopter crew, apprised of his plight, picked him up.

"I wasn't on the ground more than five minutes," said the captain.

Attendance 'Good' at Chilton Playground

CHILTON--With summer recreation nearing the halfway mark, director John Freidel reports good attendance in all phases of the program.

Last week playground attendance totaled 385 despite the holiday Monday. The biggest session was Thursday afternoon when more than 100 children attended.

Friday afternoon movie attendance went over the 400 mark. Total attendance for three weeks has been 1,165.

The first cycle of swim classes was completed: 140 children took the lessons and 75 passed the skill level test. Most of those who did not pass were taking lessons for the first time.

Baseball Players

Boys baseball has had a steady weekly attendance of about 300.

The girls softball league, new this year, is doing well with 60 girls competing Freidel said.

Plans are now being made for the recreation department's annual summer Children's Parade July 23. This is a change from the original July 16 date.

Foreign Theme

All children in the Chilton School District may participate in the parade. This year's theme is "Foreign Countries." Prizes will be awarded, based on originality, effort and how closely the costume follows the theme.

Softball Race Tightens After Two Victories by Berglund's

NEW LONDON — Berglund's tightened the Industrial Softball League race last week by blanking Keller's Dugout, 10-0, and then pounding Edison 25 to 9. League-leading Lloyd's of Manawa forfeited its game to Pine Tree.

Berglund is one-half game behind Lloyd's, now 5-1 for the year. Arnie Peterson pitched the perfect ball in the four-inning contest against Keller's.

Home runs were blasted by Dave Berglund, Duffy Procknow and Del Buss, the latter accounting for four runs with two round-trippers.

A whopping 17-run sixth inning was all Berglund's needed to down Edison. The Edison woodworkers were leading 6-4 going into the frame. Del Buss hit two home runs, as did Duffy Procknow, with Dave Berglund and Ken Smith each collecting a solo blast.

Sanctuary Idea Dead, Rusk Tells China

Reds Cannot Attack Viet Nam and Live In Safety in North

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Red China or any nation which "elects to get into this war" in Viet Nam must realize "the idea of sanctuary is dead."

Appearing on ABC's radio-television program "Issues and Answers" Sunday night, Rusk was asked about the success of bombing raids into North Viet Nam.

Rusk replied: "We had never suspected this in itself would be a decisive element but it is important that they have discovered that they are not going to be permitted to send tens of thousands of people into the south to attack South Viet Nam and live in safety and comfort there in the north."

"The idea of sanctuary is dead as far as this situation is concerned, and that is something that all of the others who may be supporting Hanoi must take fully into account."

Asked if that included the Red Chinese, Rusk responded: "Including everybody. Including everybody who elects to get into this war."

Non-Airborn Autogyro Uses Port Runways

What do you do about a non-airborn autogyro being driven on runways at the old Outagamie Airport — classify it in the go-cart category and ban it from the field?

Appleton police were faced with that question Friday night after investigating a report that an unconventional vehicle was using the port runways.

Authorities found the autogyro, a strange looking machine resembling a helicopter, operated by Herbert Meyer, 1230 E. Pershing St. Meyer told police he had secured permission from airport manager Max Sagunsky to operate the machine as long as it didn't get airborne.

Sagunsky confirmed Meyer's story, telling police Meyer needed daily permission to use the airport for his autogyro, "as long as it is tied or moored to the ground while in operation so that it could not be airborne."

No charges were filed against Meyer.

Gov. Knowles Asks Action To Save Water

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Startled by the gravity of the water crisis in New York and the northeastern part of the country as he observed it last week, Gov. Warren P. Knowles today called for emergency action to protect and preserve Wisconsin's rich heritage in water resources.

The governor said he will summon leading members of the state legislature and state agency heads for an immediate reappraisal of water conservation problems in Wisconsin, preparatory to calling a statewide waters conference in October which hopefully may lead to new legislation to coordinate the various elements of Wisconsin law dealing with water protection.

Great Problem

He said water conservation is the "greatest single natural resource problem now confronting the state."

He said one of his chief interests is a stronger attack upon water pollution, as he called attention to the despoiled condition of a lake near Madison on the shore of which he resides in the state-owned executive mansion.

Knowles noted that there are a number of bold new proposals on the problems of water protection pending in the legislature now and expressed the hopes that experts and private citizens can join to support a single bill combining provisions to assure that "Wisconsin water will be saved."

Avoid Emergency

The governor said he wants to avoid the emergency in New York where tourists are now not offered water in restaurants unless they ask for it, where lawn sprinkling has been absolutely prohibited for two months and where other aspects of the water problem have reached the dimensions of a crisis.

The governor visited New York last week as the head of an official Wisconsin delegation which toured the World's Fair.

County Board Reapportionment

Persons close to county government often are disheartened by the lack of public scrutiny and, in many cases, even the lack of public awareness of county government functions. It is especially disheartening to persons who observe the almost total lack of public attendance at public hearings and county board meetings where matters of key importance are discussed. Often there is criticism of county board action after the action has been taken. Yet, critics never seem to show up and give their views when they have the opportunity.

Such an opportunity is available to the public this week when county boards will conduct public hearings and vote on reapportionment plans in Outagamie and Calumet Counties. The hearing in Outagamie County will be at the courthouse in Appleton Tuesday morning, while the one for Calumet County will be at the courthouse in Chilton on Thursday morning. Since quality of county board representation and the equality of representation on a population basis has been one of the prime areas of criticism, this week's reapportionment hearings certainly should attract public attendance. During a public hearing, any taxpayer has the right to express his or her opinion on the subject under discussion.

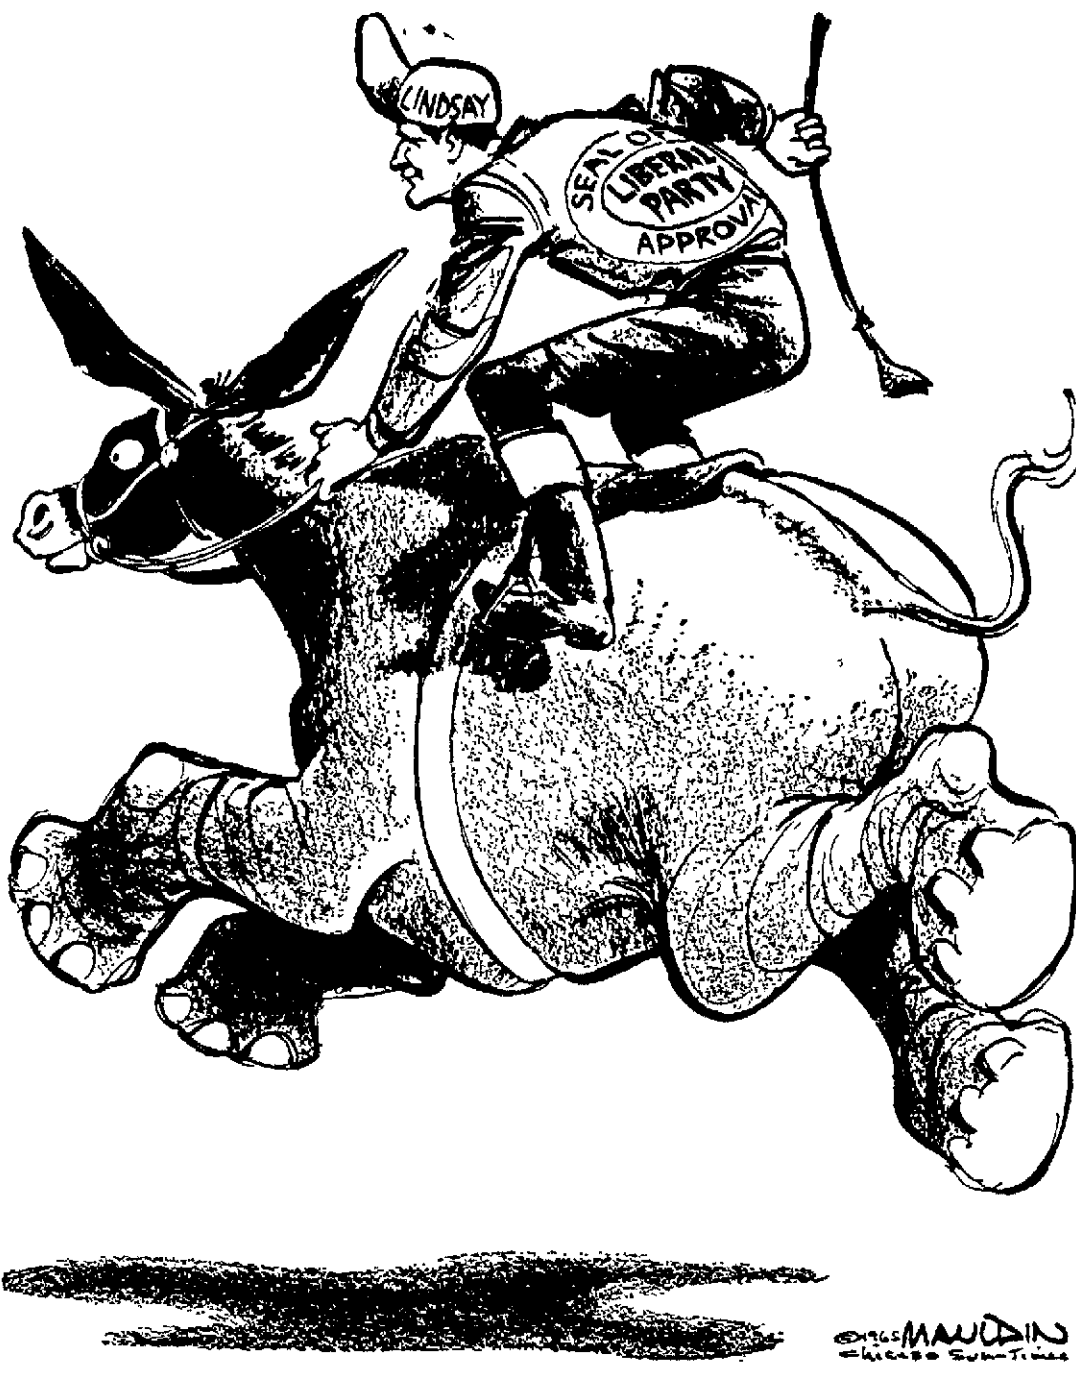

Reapportionment isn't something the county is doing by choice—all county boards must tackle the problem. The state legislature and the state supreme court have ordered reapportionment of county supervisory districts on a "one man, one vote" basis. In other words, every supervisor who sits on the county board, after April of 1966, will have to be representing as nearly as possible the same number of constituents. As a result, come next year every town and village won't be having a supervisor all for itself on the county board and some villages, towns and city wards will be getting increased representation.

Presently, plans in Outagamie County are to adopt one of two proposals—one a 47-man board, the other a 43-man board. At the June county board meeting, supervisors, on a 27 to 26 vote, concurred in recommending the plan supported by the executive committee—the 43-man board. However, the plan was attacked by Appleton Supv. Mark Catlin Jr. who objected to a realignment of supervisory districts within the city of Appleton. Catlin tried to get the board to dump the 43-man board recommendation and promised a fight to defeat the plan when it comes up for a vote. Surprisingly, Catlin won much support for his position from Appleton supervisors.

County boards must reapportion using the 1960 census as the basis. The 1960 census gave Outagamie County a population of 101,794 and Appleton a population of 48,411. Appleton's population is thus 46.52 per cent of the county population, yet under the present board of 55 supervisors, Appleton's representation (20) is only 36.37 per cent of the total. In the proposed 43-man board, Appleton would have 20 (or 46.56 per cent) of the total membership. Catlin and his supporters favor a plan that gives Appleton 21 of 47 supervisors (44.68 per cent).

The executive committee of the Outagamie County Board has spent many months studying the reapportionment problem and it would appear that the 43-man board represents the fairest solution for all units of government in the county. It is also in line with current thinking that a reduction in the size of county boards contributes to efficiency.

Taylor Says

McNamara's One-Man Rule Over Defense Department Dangerous

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

A worried America has a right to question Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's dominant involvement in the Viet Nam war.

Taylor

This is not easy to do. First, President Johnson seems to regard him as the most valuable man in the Cabinet. Next, Mr. McNamara lives inside an iron cocoon to the extent that it has become a police problem for the Defense Department to keep independent-minded newsmen disciplined and dumb.

Surely Mr. McNamara's reputation as the President's indispensable man can hardly rest on his military stance. Mr. McNamara, starting with the Bay of Pigs debacle, has been dead wrong in every major prediction he has made from the very beginning.

He shares this nearly incredible record with Gen. Maxwell Taylor, on whom we likewise have depended so heavily for results in Viet Nam.

ARE WE PREPARED? Preparedness achievements? In Mr. McNamara's Congressional testimony (repeatedly postponed) regarding the Khrushchev "confrontation"

U.S. Army Air Corps and was stationed at Brooks Field, San Antonio, Texas.

Mrs. George Breitrick, Appleton, was elected new group leader of the subdistrict of the Women's Missionary Society and the Young People's Missionary Circle at a meeting in Neenah First Evangelical Church.

Henry Vanden Boogaard was manager and secretary of the Kimberly band commission. He and village President Lloyd Lang arranged for a series of band concerts during the summer in various locations in the community. The concert that week was to be given in the new park adjacent to the high school.

10 YEARS AGO

Monday, July 11, 1955.

The Neenah Merchants won the first round championship in the Winnebago Baseball League by blanking Oshkosh 3-0 the previous afternoon. Jim Meyer pitched a smooth four-hit game, allowing only one Oshkosh runner to get to third base in the eighth inning. Neenah scored twice in the sixth on hits by Doug Haufe, Paul Frank and Meyer.

Area cadets in the University of Wisconsin ROTC attending summer camp at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., were Gregory Vanden Velden, Sherwood, and Frank Schroeder, Appleton.

Mrs. Bernie Heselton was chairman of the home nursing course being held by Outagamie chapter of the American Red Cross.

he all but said our great armed forces couldn't have invaded Cuba! He stated we were caught "terribly short" of fighter and transport planes, patrol vessels and escort war vessels, "which we'd have needed to invade Cuba." Super-administrator?

Moreover, Mr. McNamara may be a hero to President Johnson as such but he is certainly no hero to the General Accounting Office.

The McNamara management magic—with his Whiz Kids and computers—has now been officially inspected by the GAO, which is charged with reporting to Congress on how government agencies spend the taxpayers' money. The report is a scorcher.

Its alarmed complaints include lack of results from a 1961 series of GAO reports which revealed combat unreadiness in numerous fighting units because much equipment "had not been properly maintained."

"We now find substantially no improvement," it warns.

As for wastefulness, among glaring examples the GAO found "at one air base, golf and riding facilities were constructed... at a cost of $286,000 by using a portion of the fund Congress had authorized for an airfield runway."

The only "explanation" the GAO could get from Mr. McNamara's office was that the Air Force handling of the money "resulted from its misinterpretation of the directive."

COMMITTEE IS REBUFFED Meanwhile, the House Armed Services Subcommittee is rebuffed by Mr. McNamara and his Whiz Kids in similar unanswered findings.

Committeeman Alton Lennon (D.N.C.) discovered that the Aerospace agency, established by the Air Force, spent $30,000 to send one man to Princeton for one year. He received $16,000 to study quantum statistical mechanics plus a $14,000-a-year salary.

The subcommittee called it outrageous that Aerospace could refuse Congress the details, but Aerospace did refuse—40 times! Aerospace claimed that it is independent in policies and expenditures. Yet this is entirely the taxpayers' money.

Throughout every single year for 10 years before Hitler attacked, France increased her defense budget. Yet when the chips were down an adequate French army, navy or air force was not available. Is Mr. McNamara's overworked computer just spinning its reels?

On June 22 last year U.S. General Paul D. Harkins returned to Washington from command in South Viet Nam. "I think the military situation is coming along fine now," he stated. Fine! This was McNamara's line, and had been for three solid years.

We had 16,000 Americans in South Viet Nam on that date. We have about 75,000 now. HAPPENED IN FRANCE

Gen. Harkins peddled this pap under Mr. McNamara's censoring eye. It was apostasy by a distinguished four-star is what happened in the armed forces in prewar France, God help us. For is it safe to disagree?

Our military leaders do not forget, nor does Mr. McNamara expect them to forget, his head-chop of able Adm. George W. Anderson, Chief of Naval Operations, nearly six years before his retirement age, when the Senate required Admiral Anderson to testify in the 1963 Boeing-General Dynamics plane dispute and he disagreed with Mr. McNamara.

A former Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army recently told me he has never seen high-officer morale so low as today under any Secretary in the Pentagon.

When the Defense Secretary answers questions you can see snapping in his eyes much opinion. You wish you could detect judgment as clearly. This writer, for one, is fully prepared to think the unthinkable. Mr. McNamara, it seems to me, should resign.

Recreational Lands

Program Supported By Property Taxes

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—An inconspicuous bill presented by a group of upper Wisconsin legislative representatives has drawn attention to an incongruous fact about the highly touted recreational lands acquisition program of the state government that has been strangely overlooked by many of the champions of that effort.

Wyngaard

The idea has been dimmed into the minds of the voters of Wisconsin through enormous publicity during the last five years that the vast land buying program is being financed by a special tax on the cigarette puffers.

In point of fact, however, it is being subsidized to a significant degree also, and quite unwillingly, by the property taxpayers of the state, as some of the attentive northern politicians are pointing out in their bill demanding a revision of the state payments in lieu of taxes on the huge state land holdings.

HOW IT GOES

In many of the rural towns of the state and especially in the northern counties where the tax base has always been shaky, the state's land buying has steadily eroded the local tax base upon which such basic services as schools, police and fire protection and others depend.

There was a time when such lands were entirely removed from the local fiscal system, with respect to tax liability or payments in lieu of taxes to the local treasuries. During recent years the pressure upon the state from the localities grew too great to ignore, and two years ago in a kind of reluctant bargain, the state conservation department agreed to a new system that would require it to pay into town treasuries at the flat rate of 30 cents an acre. The extent of the state land program and the problems in local fiscal stability can be judged by the fact that such payments now aggregate about half a million dollars yearly.

Now there is a bill to push that payment to a flat 50 cents an acre, and the conservation department is objecting, not on principle, as it claims, but because it feels there should be some relation between assessed values of the parcels involved and the amount of tax payment required.

The private land holder might be inclined to suggest that there is no reason why the local tax assessor cannot be held responsible for fixing the amount of tax liability, even as that official assesses private buildings. But at the Legislative hearing it was made quite plain that state officials have no enthusiasm for that plan. Simply put, they don't trust the assessors to resist the temptation to inflate the valuation as a means of extracting more money from the state treasury.

ALTERNATIVES

The only alternative that apparently presents itself is to put the responsibility for the assessment upon the state department of taxation, but that agency evidently is not especially keen about the idea. There is talk about an interim study, but as Assemblyman Paul Alfonsi of Vilas County perceptively noted, the interim study often is a device to shelve a troublesome problem and in this instance the description appears to fit.

What is meaningful in the discussions, from the viewpoint of the supporters of the recreational lands expansion program, is that the resentment of local taxpayers and officials to the huge tax roll losses will sooner or later dampen legislative enthusiasm for that program. One farmer indignantly reported that the state government has not only damaged the financial structure of his town by acquiring a huge tract of land within it, but has also pushed up his taxes while it has put some of the lands ostensibly bought for public recreation into agricultural production as a competitor.

Strictly Personal

Favoritism Toward Children Is Natural

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

"Who do you love most?" my 5-year-old once asked me, enumerating all the children, including himself. "Don't be silly," I laughed weakly. "I love all of them the same."

Harris

He was not to be put off by this shabby parental device. "Who do you love most?" he persisted, and waited for a serious and honest reply. All I could say was, "I love you all the same, but in different ways, because you're different children."

He was not satisfied with this equivocating reply. He looked at me, then shrugged, and gave up the matter. I could see that I had lost a little status in his eyes, as a truth-teller and a square-shooter.

But how can one answer such a question, when the truth is hardly known, or, if known, barely admitted to oneself? Every parent, I suppose, has one special favorite, one who has captured some secret place of the heart. He tries not to show it, even to feel it, but it is there—and the children know it is there.

Each of us wants to be God's favorite child; Cain, after all, slew Abel because he was jealous that God accepted Abel's gift and spurned his own. It was not so much an act of hate against his brother—there is no mention that they were unfriendly—as a burning resentment against what he considered the partiality of his "father" in heaven.

And again in the very first book of the Bible, we are told the story of Joseph, who was the younger son and favorite of his father, Jacob, and who thus became so hated by his older brothers that they sold him as a slave to a caravan going to Egypt.

All children are aware that their parents do not, and perhaps cannot, love them equally. The parents may be, as most are, scrupulously fair in treating them all alike, and even in giving a little extra to those less well endowed—but a child's radar system is frighteningly accurate about feelings we ourselves may not even know we possess.

It is these feelings—hidden even from ourselves—that determine how a child will react, to us, to its siblings, and to the world at large. It is not so much what we do, or what we say, or the actual "techniques" of child-rearing that matter, as much as our emotional sub-stratum.

Parents who tend to blame themselves when a child turns out to have "problems" often ask themselves "What did I do wrong?" or "What did I fail to do?" In most cases, I think, there is no specific act or attitude or omission to pinpoint; and it is futile for the parents to blame themselves for feelings they did or did not have.

"Who do you love most?" is a question that cannot be successfully answered, or successfully evaded. This may be why the child, with its unerring instinct for our weaknesses, eventually confronts us with it.

Potomac Fever—by Jack Wilson

The whole world is confused by our actions in Santo Domingo. They say if we found these people revolting why did we want to move in with them?

You can't stop technological progress. First the TV dinner replaced the old-fashioned can opener, and now we have skate boards instead of banana peels.

Moscow says it will have nothing to do with that British imperialist war mongering peace mission.

Looking Backward

Negro Troops Occupy Galveston

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for July 13, 1865.

Galveston is now occupied by colored troops, constituting a provost guard for the enforcement of law and order.

Gen. Gordon Granger left this morning (July 7) for Houston with sufficient forces to occupy that city and protect citizens there and in that vicinity.

The transports loaded with Weitzel's Corps arrived several days ago, but were unable to cross the bar on account of the high seas that had been rolled up by a strong southeast wind. A large fleet is near at anchor off the Bay, comprised of navy vessels, transports and coal barges.

The forts erected with such great pains are now deserted, shell and powder scattered recklessly about with wantonness. Gen. Granger declared they are not worth occupying at present and it is probably they will remain in their desolation as mementos of four years of unsuccessful treason.

Branch Bank Advocates Triumph After Strenuous Lobbying Effort

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Surprise of the week in legislative politics was the triumph of the branch banking advocates in passing their branching bill through the State Assembly after a strenuous battle, and in spite of the formidable obstacle in the constitutional provision requiring a two-thirds vote on changes in the banking laws.

The lobby effort, on both sides of the issue, has transcended almost all similar contests thus far this year—with the possible exception of the trading stamp fight several months ago.

Now the battle will be transferred to the State Senate, with the outlook for an even more vigorous pressure on both sides. The outlook is probably fair, at best.

Normally sophisticated lobbying advisers start their proposals in the house in which they believe they have the best chance to score a victory.

State Sen. J. E. Leverich of Sparta is one of the deans of the state legislature after slightly more than 30 years of service there, but he has also accumulated a unique record of leadership in local government. He has been an officer of his rural town in Monroe County for 51 years, which may be a record of its kind, according to the Wisconsin Towns Association.

David Adamany, the resourceful, peripatetic administrative assistant of Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey will leave that place in the fall to join the teaching faculty of the Wisconsin State University-Whitewater. Adamany is charmed with politics, but he is anxious to do a doctor's degree. Chances are that he will return next summer, however, to see his friend and employer through the Democratic gubernatorial primary contest.

Some legislators are informed that the operators of cigarette vending machines are not especially disturbed about the outlook for a higher state cigarette tax. Their wholesale prices are rising, and it is now difficult to adjust their retail charges to compensate. But a boost of two cents in the state tax would give them the opportunity to revise their charges by the comfortable round figure of a nickel, according to that reasoning.

Harvey Grasse, replaced several months ago as chairman of the State Highway Commission, has sold his Madison home and returned to Ellison Bay, Door County, to live with his family. Grasse expects to obtain new employment, related to the highway construction industry, but has evidently declined such offers as he has had from the Democratic national administration for jobs outside Wisconsin.

Ody Fish, the new Republican state chairman, is busily engaged on a swing around the state for consultations with local Republican organization leaders. One of his plans for a revised organization project calls for the appointment of several field men to assist local leaders in their recruiting and campaign preparation tasks.

The Republican state organization has not yet filled the vacancy in the key office of party finance director, but it is likely that Bernard Ziegler of West Bend, a genial and energetic businessman, will be persuaded to take the job.

Stanley Du Rose of the state insurance department, target of some sharp-shooting from some elements of the insurance business, was a favorite of Paul Rogan when Rogan was insurance commissioner, and owes his rise to Rogan's boost.

Rogan, who is now an executive of a Milwaukee-based national insurance company, came to the capitol last week to let Gov. Knowles and others know that he will be displeased if Du Rose's critics succeed in displacing him as deputy state commissioner of insurance. Rogan has close connections in the legislative Republican caucus as a former GOP State Senate majority leader.

Gov. Knowles' invitation to Wisconsin businessmen and others to join him and Mrs. Knowles on a European trade tour in early fall show that there is a substantial interest in the venture. The first of such expeditions was led two years ago by Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells, then lieutenant governor.

The announcement by Assemblyman Robert Haase of Marinette, the Republican floor leader in the Assembly, that he does not intend to run for reelection was generally expected. Haase has let it be known for months that he has no interest in remaining in the legislature permanently. He had hoped to win the circuit judgeship in northeastern Wisconsin, but lost by a tiny margin of votes last spring. Some of his friends hope that he may land an appointive place in the state government later. Gov. Knowles is known to think highly of him, but there is apparently no commitment or any obvious vacancy suited to him thus far.

the second, Mrs. Splitt and Mrs. Anderson reach a peak of fluid comedy as they get high on Christmas office party libations. The third moment, of course, is Emmy's frightening and, thankfully, frightful performance.

Saturday's opening night audience was generously sprinkled with office workers and it was apparent they took special delight in Emmy's eventual downfall; but, since there isn't any human worker who is absolutely sure there isn't an Emmy in his future, the show is a delight to all breadwinners and their dependents. This kind of empathy should keep the Attie's arena theater filled every night, with the exception of tonight, through Sunday.

Calumet Girls Briefed for Washington Trip

The first Calumet County delegates to attend the 4-H citizenship short course in Washington August 1-7 will meet today for orientation in Madison.

The girls, Margaret Jochmann, route 4, Appleton; Joan Juckem, route 1, Chilton, and Paula Thiel and Mary Beth Brantmeier, Sherwood, attended the meeting with Charles Nikolai, county 4-H Club agent.

Some 30 delegates, mostly from the southern Wisconsin counties will be attending the session in Washington. They will travel by chartered bus with two adult chaperones.

The Calumet County Junior Leaders Association sponsored variety shows and raised $100 towards the $400 expenses for the trips. Civic and patriotic groups have been approached for partial scholarships. To date the county VFW group is the only organization which has made a donation.

Attic Theater Scores Again With Funny, Empathetic Play, 'Desk Set'

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

The Attic Theater, so far this season, has been making hay with the gimmick of getting the audience into the act. In its first offering the Attic actually sent "The Great Sebastian" into the audience as a part of his mental act. In the current offering, "The Desk Set," the empathy is even greater.

The show's yarn, rolled into a ball, is about the ever-present, current and very real conflict between human workers and the threat of obsolescence by automation. Few in Saturday's opening night audience failed to have a very personal sigh of relief when William Marchant's comedy ended with the machine's defeat, and everyone apparently had a good time.

Since "The Desk Set" is a very "busy" play with a lot of quite authentic, but not quite dramatic, small talk and stage, office routine, business, the actors needed all of the empathy they could get to sustain the goings on between the few big scenes.

New Cast
It is good to report that the cast—on the main new to Attic productions—was up to the difficult job of breathing excitement into the often trite situations and lines. And the big scenes made up for the somewhat arid stretches in between.

Of special interest was the acting debut of Cody Splitt, one of the Fox Cities' few lady barristers. Assigned the lead in what amounts to a star's vehicle, Mrs. Splitt had more than ample opportunity to demonstrate a formidable memory and her ability to hold stage center with authority and poise. While the farcial charade is short on dramatic demands, Mrs. Splitt can count her debut an auspicious one. The audience went away Saturday with that feeling, at any rate.

Sharing the major responsibilities for the show are three newcomers and a veteran. Dean Markwardt with sonorous voice and persuasive poise proved a pillar of male strength amid distaff machinations. Lorraine Johnson and Jean Tomarkin handled their contrasting roles with aplomb, and the veteran, Lila Anderson, used her considerable skill and experience to smooth over the rough spots and, even, make some of the dry lines com alive.

Director Don Jones again proved himself master in visual casting with the minor roles. Two casting gems were especially noteworthy. Mary Lou Laux, breath-taking as the office mixn on the prowl, and Fritz McCarter, a show stopper in the pantomime role of the concern's luscious trademark grown old.

These, and others, are the humans—the heroes—of the play. The villain, of course, is the machine and Technical Director Phil Dixon can bristle his superb beard with pride not only over his creation of the monstrous Emmy but for the fine two-office set in which Jones has placed his players. Dwayne Jurgensen—who also played a fresh-faced part in the show—and Greg Reynolds must share the latter honors for the set decoration and the well-done lighting.

Each act has its moment. In the first, Mrs. Splitt and Markwardt do a wonderful take-off on a personality quiz and in

New York GOP Leader Hits At Rockefeller

Charges Governor Can't Win; Poll Favors Sen. Javits

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—A strongly worded letter by a prominent upstate party leader inciting revolt against Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is becoming the underground political manifesto of rebellious New York Republicans.

Author of this bold declaration is State Sen. John Hughes, a Republican power in populous Onondaga County (Syracuse). Hughes puts in blunt terms what other New York Republicans chieftains have been whispering ever since Rockefeller announced he would seek a third term in 1966: that Rockefeller not only cannot be re-elected but would carry the party down with him.

These sentiments were put on paper by Hughes in a May 14 private letter to Sen. Jacob Javits, urging that Javits get the governor to step aside in 1966.

Wants Javits

Hughes' implied replacement for Governor: the highly popular Javits. However, Javits apparently did not follow up Hughes' suggestions.

Indeed, the Hughes-to-Javits letter would have remained private correspondence had not Hughes sent copies to other politicians. Some of them reproduced the letter and circulated it among an appreciative underground party audience. Consequently, we can disclose the letter's contents for the first time.

Hughes reflects Republican disenchantment with Rockefeller, both upstate and in New York City, and tells why: "... a campaign in which the governor runs for re-election will bring nothing but disaster."

Hughes continues in blunt words: "It gets down to a rather basic decision, that is, whether the party should be irreparably damaged because of one person. The governor's statement... that he would seek re-election, appears to be one of desperation, designed to head off possible Republican opposition. Again he did not advise either the Republican (legislative) leaders or the lieutenant governor."

Stressing that, "This is not a personal matter with me, but rather an effort to help save the Republican party in New York state from a loss which it will not readily recover," Hughes depicts a party in search of a leader.

"The fact is we are totally lacking in leadership and the governor cannot lead since there are very few who will follow. He has no right to take the party, the legislature and

Miller said Doro received broken ribs, a fractured neck, broken arms, broken shoulder, laceration of the chin and internal injuries.

Sheriff Marvin R. Peppier said the Doro car was headed west on Quigley Road, a half mile south of Mueller Road, and the car went off the road for 67 feet, 7 inches before striking the bridge abutment, breaking off a portion of it. The 1956 model car had no seat belts.

Winneconne Area Doro had formerly lived in the Winneconne area and was staying with a sister, Mrs. Ronald Coats, route 2, Omro, while hauling milk for a dairy. He was taken to Mercy Hospital in the Mueller ambulance of Winneconne. Doro was alone in the car.

The Winneconne Fire department was called to extinguish the fire which started when the car hit the bridge.

Other weekend fatalities reported by the Associated Press:

Unmuth was born in Appleton Dec. 13, 1946, and was graduated from Xavier High School this spring. He is survived by his parents, a sister and four brothers, all at home.

Heavy air strikes against Viet Cong concentrations in South Viet Nam also were reported. The spokesmen said the planes, river shipping and troop concentrations.

State Klan Leader Quits After 4 Days

WAUKESHA (AP)—The man who set himself up as leader of the Wisconsin Ku Klux Klan has resigned after four days with the comment: "Nobody seemed to think much of the whole idea."

David John Harris, 36 cited outside pressure and news of a probe by the FBI as the cause of his resignation as a Klan member. He said he wrote to Robert Shelton, Tuscaloosa, Ala., Imperial Grand Wizard of the Klan, announcing his decision to drop out of the organization.

Harris had started the Klan controversy earlier in the week by saying he planned to start a Klan with as many as 50,000 members. An ad appeared in the Waukesha Freeman classified section directing interested people to a Post Office box in Mukwonago.

A reporter checked the box during the weekend and estimated that it contained about 20 letters.

44; Edward Muellenbach, 49, and his wife, Lillian — all of Grafton.

Four young persons, two of them returning from a wedding, were killed at 1 a.m. Sunday in a head-on collision on Highway 45 about four miles south of West Bend.

The victims were Richard Block, 20, of rural Cascade; Phyllis Arndt, 20, of Plymouth, Albert Miller, 18, of Sussex, and Albert Hambly, 20, of Menomonee Falls.

Authorities said Block and Miss Arndt planned to be married in November. Hambly was a passenger in the car driven by Miller.

Signals Ordered

The Public Service Commission has ordered the North Western Road to install automatic signals, including flashing lights, at three crossings in the community.

William Ahles, 22, and Paul Kurzynski, 32, both of rural Mosinee, died early Sunday when their cars collided at the crest of a hill on old Highway 51 about four miles south of Knowlton, Marathon County. They were alone in their vehicles.

Jerry Pavelicek, 72, of Berlin, Ill., was killed early Sunday in a two-car collision on a Lake Geneva street. Four others were injured seriously.

Joseph R. Wilk Jr., 22, of rural Wausau, died Saturday in a two-car crash north of Pelican Lake. Bruce Lipofski, 16, Menomonee Falls, was killed when his bicycle was struck by a car Saturday while riding home from a part-time job.

Roosevelt Ideal Revolution in Congress Continued by New Bills

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American revolution begun 30 years ago will be taking just one more step when Congress soon gives final approval to the voting rights bill and medical care for people 65 and over.

President Johnson is extending what his hero, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, started. Until 1935 there were two prevalent American philosophies: that the federal government had no responsibility for the general welfare; and that safety and survival lay in isolation. Both have been turned completely around.

Although England under Queen Elizabeth in the 16th century showed twinges about people's welfare by passing laws concerning the poor, the idea was slow in growing.

19th Century
As late as the latter half of the 19th century American presidents were emphatically denying the federal government had general welfare responsibility. This idea slowly melted as industry and the population grew. But it wasn't abandoned until 1935 when Congress passed the first Social Security Act providing old age pension and other benefits. Congress took another gigantic step in 1935.

This was in passing the Wagner Act which said employers must bargain with a union of their employees and couldn't fire a man for joining one. Workers never had that protection until then. Unions mushroomed.

In 1937, under Roosevelt's prodding, the revolution caught up with the Supreme Court whose concern, clinging to 19th century ideas was for business and property interests.

Social Security Act
It approved the Social Security and Wagner acts and went on, although sometimes haltingly, to show more concern for individual rights and liberties.

In 1933 England had imposed its first limits on the hours a man would have to work. It limited miners to 48 hours a week. Congress moved in the same direction 105 years later. In 1938 it approved a 44-hour work week, later reduced to 40, and began the requirement of minimum wages.

The New Deal's social legislation really ended there as the Roosevelt administration, worried about the coming war in Europe, began to build its defenses and slowly emerged from isolation with lend-lease. But it got into war.

End of Isolation
The United States, which had backed away from the League of Nations, in the anguish of World War II began to hope for postwar peace and joined the United Nations. That was the beginning of the end of isolation.

Meanwhile, there came a memorable but often forgotten moment. In 1946, for the first time in history, Congress approved a law saying flatly the government had a responsibility for the general welfare. It was a foundation for the future.

But the United Nations could not alone preserve peace. The Soviet Union began pressuring Turkey. Communists tried to take over Greece, and this country's wartime allies in Western Europe were too broke and dilapidated to help.

President Harry S. Truman in 1947 totally ended isolation with his "Truman Doctrine" pledging American aid to "free people resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures."

Joined NATO
The United States helped Greece and Turkey, joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to prevent a Russian takeover of Western Europe, joined other alliances, went to war in Korea, and began a program, still continuing, of giving economic and military help to other countries.

But 1954 was one of the most far-reaching years in American life. The Supreme Court declared segregation of Negroes unconstitutional, thus scrapping an 1896 court decision saying the opposite.

Opposite
Congress, between 1896 and 1954, could have acted to protect Negroes' rights but didn't. But even Congress changed. In 1957 it passed the first Civil Rights Act since 1875, another in 1960, still another in 1964, and now is winding up perhaps the most important of them all, an act to protect the Negroes' right to vote.

Congress Did Nothing
Then, once again, the court stepped in to prevent national stagnation because Congress, trying to ignore a problem, did nothing.

The court ordered the reapportionment of state legislatures to give the people in the growing cities more say and, because their numbers are dwindling, the people in the countryside less.

Since Johnson proclaims the "Great Society" as his goal, he can be expected to continue the upheaval begun three decades ago with more wide-ranging proposals to Congress.

Despite Cuts, Bill for Taxes Remains Same

State and Local Costs Increased
By $50 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — If you suspect that despite all the talk about tax cuts your tax bills have been adding up to as much or even more than ever, you may well be right.

Much of this is due to rising state and local taxes. The increase is estimated at around $50 billion this year. In 1963 these levies averaged out to about $250 per capita. This year the figure is close to $290 per capita.

But the federal government, too, has been taking in more than before it cut the rates. Its receipts from all sources are up $4 billion over a year ago.

More Employed
The Treasury explains that with two million more persons employed now than before the tax cut early in 1964, and with many others getting higher pay and working longer hours, the total personal income has been rising. So there is more subject to tax, even if the rates have been lowered.

Also corporate profits have been soaring. The corporate income tax rate was lowered in two steps — from 52 per cent to 48 per cent. But tax collections on the larger earnings netted the Treasury nearly $2 billion more in the fiscal year that ended June 30.

The Treasury also suspects that much of the increase in collections in the past year has been due to their new computers. These machines keep a closer eye on an individual's sources of income, such as interest and dividends. And more of these are being reported now than when tax forms were inspected only by the human eye, and on a sampling basis.

Other Taxes Higher
Some taxes you pay the federal government aren't included in the cut on income rates. Social security levies, for instance, have risen as more persons were employed. And next year the percentage withheld from pay checks will be steeper than ever.

But the biggest percentage rise in tax collections has been at the state and local level.

The Tax Foundation, a New York-based research agency, reports that from fiscal 1955 to 1965 federal tax receipts rose 72 per cent. In the same 10 years state tax receipts jumped 136 per cent, and local governments increased their take by 117 per cent.

Some of this was due to increased prosperity supplying higher incomes and swelling property values on which to levy taxes. Much of it was due to use of new taxes or higher rates on old ones.

$250 Average
The Commerce Clearing House, a Chicago-based tax reporting agency, says that in fiscal 1964 each American paid an average of $250 in taxes to state and local governments. It found the low per capita tax rate was $146 in South Carolina and the high was $351 in New York State. California was a close second at $349 and Nevada was third at $315.

All signs point to a rise in these figures when the agency figures the results in the fiscal year just ended.

If the U.S. Treasury could take in about $4 billion more from all sources in the 1965 fiscal year, the state and local collectors probably did at least as well.

One way or another, many Americans will be paying more taxes this year, even if the federal income rate has been cut.

Jonathan Winter Could Be Modern W. C. Fields

BY JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jonathan Winters loves moviemaking so much he's even playing a corpse in his latest film.

Winters is the dad of "Oh, Dad, Poor Dad, Mother's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' so Sad."

During much of the picture he is hauled around in a coffin or else falling out of the coffin at inopportune times.

Flick Star

But when Rosalind Russell, who plays mom, shows some home movies, Jonathan gets a chance to play live.

"These flicks are for me," says the comedian.

Winters, who can make a fortune in concerts, gave up between $250,000 and $500,000 a year to concentrate on movies and television.

"All my problems of the past — and I had a few — were due to my being on the road. I don't care what anyone says, no one can be a good husband and father when he's gone most of the time."

Director Richard Quine, who's making the film, believes Winters will enjoy the same success in movies as the late W. C. Fields.

"Already there's a Winters cult among moviegoers just as there was for Fields," says Quine.

Far Out

Some of his stuff is far out — with a touch of mayhem in it. His wife tells about a typical Winters gag when he gets on an old elevator with a crowd.

"Do you hear that, Maud?" he says, peering up to the ceiling of the elevator. "I can always tell when the first threads of the cable are starting to break. There's a small ping-sound. By George, I warned the superintendent about this."

Then he steps out, shaking his head sadly, leaving a carload of worried passengers.

Jeannette Leahy, in her sixth season with the Peninsula Players, is appearing in the cast of the Agatha Christie thriller, "The Mousetrap," opening Tuesday at the Fish Creek Theatre-in-a-Garden. Curtain time Tuesday through Saturday is 8:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

CBS Probes TV Rating Systems

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 2)—CBS Reports on "The Rating Game," the systems used to gauge how large TV and radio audiences are. In this informative and somewhat daring documentary, the producer, the performer, the sponsor, the advertising agency and the newspaper critic are represented. They are cross-examined by Robert Trout.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11)—"The Creature" on Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea is not the scary monster you might expect from this series. In this well-thought-out and intelligent episode, the excitement is over some mysterious radiation. Repeat

7-8 (Channel 4-5)—Robert Vaughn, the dapper agent hero of The Man From U.N.C.L.E., is busy with "The Iowa-Scuba Affair," trying to outwit sinister Thrush from involving the U. S. in an atomic war. Repeat

7:30-8 (Channel 2)—Summer Playhouse has another light-hearted TV pilot, "Mr. Belevader," with Victor Borge in the lead as an eccentric genius.

8-8:30 (Channel 2)—The Lucy Show has one of its better outings as the girls' curiosity gets the best of them when they try to find out what Mr. Mooney has bought his wife for her birthday. Repeat

8-9 (Channel 4-5)—Jill St. John, the busiest starlet of the year, is the shapely, leggy guest on The Andy Williams Show where she displays her talents as a hooper as well as a singer. (COLOR) Repeat

9-10 (Channel 11)—Thank goodness, Ben Casey finally gets a holiday. But as you might expect, he takes his vacation in San Francisco as seriously as he does his operating rooms. Repeat

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—Larry Blyden, who has obviously read too much of Walter Mitty, turns his dreams into reality on The Alfred Hitchcock Hour. Repeat

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

DOES EDUCATION MAKE FOR MENTAL ILLNESS? YES ☐ NO ☐

No, but the eminent psychiatrist, Dr. Lawrence Kubie, says education may help a person to be aware of his own problems.

The ignorant who are mentally ill often do not know that anything is wrong with them. The educated person who is mentally ill is much more likely to recognize that he is ill and needs help. He will know better who to turn to and, if treated, will be able to be more cooperative in his own treatment.

For a realistic and practical look at the problem of mental illness, read the booklet, "When Mental Illness Strikes Your Family." Send 25c and your name and address (including ZIP Code) to this column, care of The Post-Crescent.

People are losing their morals! True — False —

False, and we have many studies to prove it. In one long series of studies, a number of psychologists found that most people tended to describe the objects of their experiences in moral terms. Watch the terms that people use, like "good," "bad," or the emphasis the "Beatniks" put upon "freedom" and non-conformity. People often are not intelligent about their moral standards. They are sometimes confused. But their fundamental moral concern seems to be as real and as permanent as their concern for food and drink.
